Bessemer Constable Shoots To Halt Suspected Robber Pair

Constable Uses Revolver To Halt Suspect's Flight

Shoup Of Bessemer Fires At Suspect—Causes Slight Flesh Wound

PAIR CAPTURED AFTER ROBBERY

Aged North Beaver Couple Robbed—Money Recovered By Officers

When two alleged hold-up men attempted to escape Constable Archie Shoup at Bessemer last night, the constable inflicted a flesh wound on one of the pair and County Detective Lee and State Policeman Geclosky caught the second a short time afterward.

They are alleged to have robbed Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Eckman, aged North Beaver township residents, of $162 last night. This is the second important catch made in the Bessemer district by Shoup, Lee and the state police.

Home Is Entered

According to reports received here today, Grover C. Porter, 45, and Albert P. Edwards, 26, living in the Hillsville vicinity, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Eckman, both about 85 years of age, North Beaver township, about 8:30 p. m.

When the men entered they ordered the old folks to throw up their hands. In his trousers pocket Mr. Eckman had a purse containing $162, which one of the men took. Following this they left.

The alarm was spread and Constable Shoup started scouring the vicinity of Bessemer and espied the two suspects near a church.

He ordered them to surrender. Instead they fled. He drew his gun.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 15.—Boy maybe you think it ain't cold back east. Me and my little Hollywood hen skin suit. The cut is perfect but it just lacks depth. Scenically, it's a dream, but surgically it's uninhabitable.

Flying all day over Oklahoma and the poor red clay hills of Missouri and then Indiana, looking down on those dejected, desolate, anemic looking rented houses. No where to work and no crops for six months, yet you don't wonder how they eat, you wonder how they keep warm.

If the government thinks it's unsound to feed 'em, maybe they could compromise with their conscience by giving 'em some coal.

COALITION SUBMITS NEW PLAN FOR AIDING NEEDY OF NATION

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Hoover administration and the Senate were locked in a new controversy today as the Democratic-insurgent Coalition sought enactment of a $25,000,000 appropriation to be used by the American Red Cross in buying food for hungry citizens of the nation.

This plan was substituted for the abandoned $15,000,000 food loan provision, which Mr. Hoover opposed. It ran directly contrary to the President's objection to any direct appropriation from the treasury for relief of unemployed or drought sufferers.

The Democratic-insurgent Coalition served notice on the administration it would write the Red Cross fund into the agricultural department appropriation bill and hold it there, even if the bill were killed. This constituted a threat of forcing a special session of the new Congress, since the agricultural appropriation bill must be enacted before March 4, or that department will have to close after July 1.

The second administration relief measure, appropriating a $45,000,000 fund for feed, seed, fertilizer and gasoline loans to drought-stricken farmers, will be sent to the House during the day. The first administration bill was the $118,000,000 public works measure.

Pinchot Scorns Wearing "Topper"

Will Forsake "High Hat" During Inaugural Ceremonies On Tuesday

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The "silk topper" so intimately connected with occasions of state, will not be in evidence next Tuesday insofar as the chief figure of inauguration day is concerned.

Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot will ride to the Capitol to take the oath wearing a subdued soft hat.

Eight Cabinet Posts Unfilled

No New Appointments Today As Governor-Elect Pinchot Goes To Philadelphia

MINERS REQUEST NAMING OF WALSH

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—With eight cabinet posts yet to be filled, Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot today prepared to leave here for Philadelphia, where he will deliver an address tonight before the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

No new cabinet appointments were forthcoming, as the incoming governor and his secretary, P. S. Stahlbecker, prepared to discontinue their conferences for a day, and it was indicated that there may be no further appointments announced until the governor-elect returns.

Tension among present remaining cabinet officers was but slightly lessened today as the result of appointment of Col. David J. Davis of Scranton, to be adjutant general to succeed Frank D. Beary of Allentown. Appointment of Col. Davis was the only one announced yesterday by Pinchot.

Appointment of a secretary of mines, it was indicated, will be one of the first in the next batch of announcements.

A delegation of mine union officials and district officers conferred with the governor-elect and while the results of the conference were not divulged, it was reported they had urged the naming of Joseph J. Walsh of Wilkes-Barre to the post, which he held during the first Pinchot regime.

It was also reported that reappointment of Walter Gasgow of Scottsdale, present secretary of mines, had been urged on the governor-elect.

CLARA BOW IN SPOTLIGHT AGAIN

Clara Bow fans have been devouring accounts of the testimony and evidence presented during the trial, at Los Angeles, of her former secretary, Miss Daisy DeVoe, accused of writing unauthorized checks on Clara's account, alleged to total more than $16,000. Telegrams from Clara's boy friends, also introduced as evidence, made interesting reading for the "It" girl's devotees. Miss Bow is at top and her former secretary inset.

Howell Will Be Given Freedom; Pardon Issued

Confession Of Irene And Dague Frees West Virginia Prisoner

GOVERNOR ISSUES COMPLETE PARDON

Authorities Satisfied Gun-Girl And Dague Committed Robbery

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 15.—There was buoyancy in the heart of Frank Howell, a convict, as he paced his cell in West Virginia State Penitentiary today. There was a spring to his steps and a blithe song on his lips.

For Howell, serving time for a gasoline station holdup to which Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague, now awaiting imposition of the death sentence for the murder of a Pennsylvania policeman, was to be officially notified of his pardon today.

Governor Issues Pardon

Word was received here last night that Governor W. G. Conley, after careful consideration of the confession affidavits of the "Trigger Woman" and her sweetheart, had issued an unconditional pardon and that the pardon was enroute from Charleston to Moundsville.

Howell was convicted in 1929 for the holdup of a filling station owned by Jack Cotts here. He bears a striking resemblance to Dague and was positively identified as the hold-up man. His conviction resulted in the imposition of a 15 year sentence in the state penitentiary.

The trial judge joined with others in recommending that Howell be pardoned to repair the apparent miscarriage of justice.

Jones Dry Bill Now Modified

President Hoover Signs Stobbs Bill, Modifying Drastic Law

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—President Hoover today signed the Stobbs bill, modifying the drastic Jones "five-and-ten" prohibition bill, under which it has been possible to send a prohibition first-offender to prison for five years and fine him $10,000 for violation of the Volstead Act.

This bill creates a new classification of prohibition offenders for "petty violations" with a short jail sentence or $500 fine prescribed for the violators.

The modification was recommended by the Wickham commission in its initial report a year ago.

The Jones law provision will continue to be applied to commercial violators.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The weatherman had a different complex this morning. Over night the frosty atmosphere changed to a biting cold, and ear muffs were visible in one or two cases this morning.

The shipment of little chicks that passed through the postoffice yesterday was unusual for this time of the year, postal officials say. It's been a long time since "peeps" were ever mailed this early. They're ordinarily shipped around April.

One driver who uses the Perry highway remarked that it pays to drive careful if the pavement is covered with snow and ice. It pays to any place, but we'll agree that the unguarded fills along the Portersville to Harmony part of that route make it doubly dangerous.

The City Rescue Mission money banks are gradually being opened and their contents applied toward the maintenance fund of the worthy organization. The banks have been located in public buildings, stores, homes and other institutions.

Won't be long now till you see blue and brown pins on a lot of folks around the city. If you see one you'll know they once were Boy Scouts—they'll be wearing pins to help the local Boy Scout council in celebrating "Anniversary Week."

The offer of the New Castle Mining and Clay Products of their 20 acre tract of surface coal to the county poor department this winter certainly has been a boon to relief work. People can't realize what a blessing it's been—both County Poor Director M. B. Hogue can. He terms it one of the most thoughtful ways of helping that could have been proposed.

Many Directors At Convention

School Directors Are Urged To Look Forward To Future And Into Past

PRE-VOCATIONAL WORK NECESSARY

"School directors must have retrospection as well as perspective," Dr. W. E. Wenner, superintendent of schools, Ashabua, Ohio, said in his address this morning during the third session of the twenty-eighth annual convention of Lawrence county school directors.

Attendance at the convention this morning, in the Sunday school room of the Second United Presbyterian church, was excellent. Although attendance at the annual meeting is not required of the directors, they have shown every effort to be present and have taken a rapid interest in every part of the two day program.

About 80 Present.

Of the 120 directors, who are serving in the townships, districts and boroughs of Lawrence county, about 80 were present this morning. Others wished to be there but their work made it impossible.

Featuring the morning program was an address by Dr. Wenner, music by the Shenango township high school, election of a delegate to the state convention, and an address by S. H. Repligle, of Allegheny county.

"The Efficient School Director" was Dr. Wenner's subject, and he handled it most excellently.

In order that school directors can reach a high efficiency they must look into the past and they must look into the inevitable future, the directors were told. In looking into the future of education, a fact stands out prominently—boys and girls must be trained with a general and pre-vocational education. They must be given something they can

Let Nasty Little Blonde Do Her Out Of A "Lotta" Dough? Not Clara Bow

By MARIAN RIEBA
International News Service Special Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 15.—"I didn't want-a do it! I got feelings, see? but--"

The Bow mop of flaming hair was wildly aflutter. The famous Bow eyes glittered with good old Irish temper. The famous Bow voice was shrill.

"Clara, 'It' girl of the movies was holding forth with plenty of vim, vigor and vitality on the error of Daisy DeVoe's ways, Daisy DeVoe who was, once upon a time, theirate Clara said, "a swell pal."

"Goeh, I'm tired. Gimme a cigaret, somebody."

The "It" girl clapped the Paris hat that she held in her hand atop her bristling titian hair where it rested at a decidedly rakish angle, lit the proffered cigaret, and sank down in one of Deputy District Attorney Clark's easiest chair.

This was five o'clock. The business of Daisy's trial on charges she embezzled $16,000 of Clara's money was over for the day.

Didn't Wanta Do It

"I didn't want-a do it," she repeated, "sit up there and tell a lot of stuff on Daisy. Let a girl be honest I did. But what's a girl gonna do? Let a nasty little blonde do her out of a lotta dough and get away with it? Not me, see."

Government Gets Valuable Forest

Federal Judge Hands Down Order Granting Valuable Land To Government

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—Under an order handed down by Judge Frank P. Schoonmaker in federal court today the federal government will acquire 16,276 acres of forest land in Warren and Forest counties condemned by the court, at a price of $171,594.24.

The tract includes more than 100 acres of virgin white pine, described as the finest in the United States.

The land has been held by the Dusenbury and Wheeler families in the two counties for more than a century. In taking the land over the government has announced it will be maintained for forestation purposes to protect the upper Allegheny watershed as a national park.

The price was fixed by a board of viewers appointed by the court.

Killers Shoot Down Hireling While Riding With Dentist In Chicago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—"Scarface Al" Capone was striking about today for a new manager to handle the affairs of his State street soup kitchen for the unemployed.

Gang assassins last night caught up with Enrico Bertocchi, director of the gang overlord's latest venture in philanthropy, and killed him outright with a burst of shotgun fire.

Bertocchi was slain while riding in the automobile of Dr. William Hejma, a dentist who had given the gangster a lift.

The killers rode up beside the dentist's car in a battered flivver and opened fire. The rain of shotgun slugs killed Bertocchi outright and wounded the dentist in the scalp.

The murder squad fled as the dentist brought his automobile to a stop at the curb.

Detectives learned that Bertocchi had failed to show the qualifications of an efficient gunman and had been transferred to the soup department of the Capone philanthropy division.

Arthur Mometer

I remember, I remember, that old time winter morn, when one arose in chilly rooms and looked out at a storm. When early morning ablutions were finished in a tree, because the water in the jug was caked with shiny ice. That old time morning exercise with shovel in my hand, was one to make a fellow sweat, he worked to beat the band. And ere he left for store or shop, wherever his goal, he filled the box behind the stove with lumps and lumps of coal. I remember, I remember, and never will forget those days of cold, of ice and cold those dear old days but yet, it seems to me the modern days have got them licked for fun, and turnace heat and electric stov—the weather's thirty one.

Oil Producers In Conference

Plight Of Independent Oil Producers Is Discussed At Washington

CONSERVATION IS EVIL TO INDUSTRY

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—If the present program of oil conservation is continued and results in the shutting down of producing wells, the cessation of development and exploration work, the known oil reserves of the United States will become practically valueless, Wirt Franklin told the governor's oil relief conference today.

Will Bring Ruin

"If it is desirable that monopoly shall securely fasten its tentacles upon the petroleum industry of the United States with the same grip it holds upon the remainder of the world, and if it is desirable that the consumers of the United States should ultimately pay the same price for gasoline and other petroleum products that are charged in Europe and other foreign countries, then the so-called program of conservation should be continued," Franklin said.

He predicted that continuation of the program would bring "utter ruin" in its wake to one-fifth of the population of the United States directly and indirectly, and in lesser degree to the entire country.

The true intent of those fostering and promoting the conservation program, he said, is to shut down domestic production, stop development, to preserve the oil supplies in the ground to be developed and used after foreign supplies have been exhausted, and to turn the markets for petroleum in the United States over to a few large companies engaged in exploiting the petroleum reserves of South America, and in importing the production thereof into the United States.

Doubt Dispel
"If there has been any doubt as to these intents and purposes in the past, all doubt must now be dispelled, since under date of January 6, 1931, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, after having received an invitation from the governors of Oklahoma and Kansas to participate in this conference, gave an interview, declaring himself against a tariff on oil. He said:

"The chief result would be that the big companies which now have many wells shut in and not in operation would open them up, adding to the production. Over-production is the basic ill of the industry."

use when they are through school. They must be taught to adapt themselves to different vocations.

Another thing, according to Dr. Wenner, that must be done is to organize a vocational education for girls.

Vocations for Women
"Women have come into the industrial world. And they are here to stay," the speaker said emphatically.

"They want careers, and the experience of the past have showed us that they are going to have them. It is up to the educational executives to see that they get the desired vocational training in the schools. Provisions must be made so that these girls can get the education they want. Whether we like it or not, they are going to have careers and they must be considered."

Dr. Wenner said that a capable member of the board of education must be a man of the people. He must have sincerity of purpose, interest in education, he must be intelligent, must cultivate an open mind, secure facts and link himself to the worthy enterprises of the community.

Shenango Pupils Perform

Presiding Officer W. H. Helle introduced Miss Hanna of the musical department of the Shenango township high school, who directed a troop of about 60 boys and girls in a number of choral numbers. It was a fine demonstration of the value of the consolidated school in the musical line.

Thirty boys offered several numbers, followed by selections by a chorus of 30 girls. A talented group of four singers formed a quartet and took part in the entertainment. The concluding musical presentation was the large mixed chorus, in the spirited song, "Shenango Will Shine Tonight." The directors appreciated this part of the program very well. Principal Book of the school was present.

Elect Delegates

Wendall P. Ball, treasurer of the directors of this county, was elected as delegate to the state convention to be held in Harrisburg on the 3rd, 4th and 5th of next month.

S. H. Replege, assistant superintendent of the Allegheny county schools, gave the address that concluded the morning session. His subject was "The School Director's Job."

It was an interesting and informative talk. Mr. Replege showed that a school director is a real educator of the educational system. He said that the job of a school director was a big one—bigger and more important than some realize. He told of the duties and how they can best be done—of the vast educational system of the state and nation.

The annual convention will be concluded at about four o'clock this afternoon. Addresses will be made by Senator George T. Weingartner and S. H. Replege.

On Wednesday afternoon County Superintendent John C. Syling and a group of directors representing the directors' organization attended the funeral of Mrs. Ball, wife of the assistant superintendent of schools, Charles F. Ball.

Hubbard Checks Spread Of Fever

Only One New Case Reported Yesterday—Health Officer III

HUBBARD, Jan. 15.—The quarantine for scarlet fever was being strictly enforced in the village today although health officials believed the epidemic was under control and further spread of the disease is held unlikely.

One new case was reported Tuesday, bringing the total number of cases to 25 in the village and township.

The schools will remain closed for two weeks. Sup. H. G. Boren announced this morning. Classes were dismissed Monday afternoon, not because of the number of pupils stricken but because two teachers, Miss Dorothy Dennis and Miss Alice Laflin, were found to be suffering with the disease. Three other teachers are under observation, Mr. Boren said. There was only one case among the pupils reported within the last week.

The churches and motion picture theater will remain closed for two weeks, and loitering in public places is prohibited. School children have been asked to remain at their homes.

Dr. L. A. Connell, county health commissioner, is at his home, but the county nurses are doing all possible to relieve the situation and are assisting local school nurses in caring for those stricken.

STAR LORE

BOUNDING THE SECOND GREAT QUARTER OF THE CELESTIAL SPHERE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The sixth hour meridian circle passes from Polaris southward just a little to the east of Betelgeuse in Orion and about three-fourths of a degree west of Sirius. The twelfth hour meridian circle passes from Polaris southward just to the east of the triangle in constellation Leo. In the southern celestial hemisphere both Sirius and Canopus, the two brightest visual stars in the heavens, are between the sixth and seventh hours of R. A. (Right Ascension). Canopus is 50 1/2 degrees declination south, and Sirius about 10 1/2 degrees. On a voyage in southern seas the writer observed Capella, Sirius and Canopus all at once along the eastern evening sky. What season of the year was it?

Finds Eskimos Who Never Saw Whites

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 15.—Eskimo children, who had never seen a white man, were discovered by Rev. Father Dauchaussois, official historian of the congregation of missionaries of the Order of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, during a trip within the Arctic Circle in Canada from which he has just returned. These children were overcome by curiosity and pulled the beards of the missionaries to discover how they were fastened on.

Father Dauchaussois left Montreal last June and covered a total distance of 6,500 miles of land water and air to visit a handful of Eskimos and Indians in 20 scattered missions in the far north.

After the Christmas holidays Father Dauchaussois will leave Montreal for the African jungles. His parish is the remote parts of the world.

EVIDENTLY MORE REASONS

There is always an argument about prohibition. Most all people have their own ideas about it. So far five schemes have been offered, as follows:

"First, to make liquor cheap as dirt, so that every grocery could sell it. That is foolish, too many people are making their own now."

"Second, high license. But that only invites bootleggers and blind pigs again."

"Third, the Canadian system. But that puts the Government in the liquor business, which ought not to be."

"Fourth, local option, which is excellent except that the territory adjacent to you may be wet and the stuff comes over the border."

"Lastly, prohibition, which as we see it, is very difficult to enforce, but which the majority wants."

The drawback to letting convicts work at their old trade is that so few prisons contain anybody worth holding up.

TWO CROOKS

A couple of crooks once did some business with each other. The seller loaded a profit of 100 per cent on his work. The buyer made a down payment of sixty per cent of the invoice.

That was the last the seller ever saw of the buyer.

Both came out even on the deal, the net result being identical with a regular transaction between honest men. The seller made a legitimate profit of ten percent out of the buyer's cash payment. The buyer got full value for his down payment, and no more.

Observation has convinced me that this is the way crooks get along. Each expects to cheat and be cheated, but the net result parallels an honest deal.

The tragedy occurs when a crook is on one side of the bargaining table and an honest man on the other. Under such circumstances the honest man is stuck.

The crook's psychology reminds me of an old golf story.

"What kind of a game do you play?" asked one man.

"Oh, about 115," was the answer.

"What do you play?"

"About 112 on a good day."

"Well, let's shoot at a dollar a stroke."

That night the "115" man told his wife that the "112" man was a crook.

"He made it in 78," was the complaint.

"What was your score?"

"Eighty!"

ARE YOU A MESS?

The office in which I work is generally conceded to be the sloppiest, most disorderly one in the building. Old files, books, scraps of paper, clippings, letters, pamphlets, newspaper cuts, pictures and other valuable properties are piled haphazardly on desks, tables, and chairs. They slop over and fall on the floor; I pick them up and throw them away. I rarely throw anything away; I've told more than one janitor never to clean out my office and if he sees anything on the floor that looks as if it might be useful, not to sweep that out, either.

I've been abused by friends for the way my office looks. And I've defended myself for my sloppiness. I've told them I know where everything is—and that everything is useful—and that I like it this way because it would be far more work to keep everything neat than it is to throw things in a pile and let them lie there till I need them. I think I've even been proud of this disorder.

I've had my triumphs and they've been sweet—but lately I've had my doubts, too, about this office of mine. I've looked for things and haven't been able to find them.

I know they're under a pile, somewhere, but I don't know which pile. My instinct ought to lead me directly to the needle in the haystack, but somehow it doesn't do so. I guess my "instinct" has gotten discouraged. I don't know, perhaps my system isn't working as well as I thought it would. I ought to do something about it. Ought to clean house, ruthlessly throw unnecessary things away, pile things neatly, and start all over again.

Perhaps I will. I mustn't be a mess. I never thought my office was a reflection of a messy mind, but maybe it is. Perhaps, if I clean up my office, my mind will clean up, too; at least, I'll make a better impression on people.

Do you have such thoughts? Do you dream of cleaning up and starting over again, again? Do you wonder if you are a mess and if you've let yourself, bit by bit, get into a sloppy state? Or are you always perfect? If you aren't, I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll clean up my office if you'll do something, too. I'll trade you unsight—unsight, and we'll both be Public Improvements. Of course, if you don't want to do it, it's too bad, and I'm sorry—because I did want some sort of excuse, some incentive, for cleaning up my mess of an office and starting all over again.

PERSONAL PREPAREDNESS

Are you prepared for a turn in your affairs which might materially decrease your income?

Have you ever thought what you might do if you lost your position and were unable to procure one of a similar nature?

Possibly you feel secure in your job. This may be a false security. It might be well to give some consideration to your ability to get and hold a job in some other line.

It is a vital matter—earning a living and doing it honestly.

With so many consolidations being brought about, it is well for every person to give thought to what the future has in store.

Of course your big aim and ambition should be to make yourself so proficient and useful in your present place that your dismissal will never be considered by your employer.

Also, you should try to perfect yourself so that not only your present employer but many others would be glad to number you as a member of their forces.

But even if you think you have done all this, you should not be content to let the future take care of itself.

Mussolini Inspires Visions Of More Harmonious World

Italian Premier's Broadcast Is Well Received In This Country, But There Is Some Speculation As To Ultimate Results Of New Attitude

The radio address of Premier Mussolini of Italy to the people of the United States was apparently listened to with attention and, in general, approval, especially to the part dealing with Italy's aspirations for peace.

"Premier Mussolini presented the world with a real gift in his radio declaration that Italy never will take the offensive in starting another war, provided he meant what he said, and there is no apparent reason to believe he did not," says the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, which suggests that "perhaps the world can hope that it is good harbinger and that one of the many improvements of 1931 will be a change in the atmosphere of European affairs conducive to the continuance of peace." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL pictures Mussolini as having thrown aside "much of the austerity and brusqueness of manner which one commonly associates with him when he appears before the public," and finds "running all through his address a warmth and geniality quite alien to his usual temperament when addressing either his own people or those in foreign countries. His complimentary references to the United States are warmly reciprocated," affirms the Journal.

"As a matter of fact there was a spirit of friendliness in his talk, and on no occasion since he took over the reins of government of Italy has Mussolini exhibited a more reasonable and sensible attitude toward world peace," declares the LYNCHBURG ADVANCE.

That the desire of the Italian people for peace is shared by all the peoples of the world is the opinion voiced by the MADISON WISCONSIN STATE JOURNAL, when it says: "The great nations of the world are not today thinking or talking as far as their mass citizenship is concerned in words or terms of war. The people are thoroughly aware that their best interests lie in peace," this paper concludes.

"It is a subdued Mussolini" that speaks, says the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, which suggests that "perhaps the depression and France's obstinacy have helped to make Mussolini peaceful."

The address was unusual in that it differed so materially from the bombastic type which, the premier apparently feels, is necessary to stimulate greater activity in the Fascist cause or to divert popular thought from a bad economic situation at home to patriotic exaltation.

The possibility of foreign expansion, notes the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, which rates the broadcast as having "set a high standard for the start of the year. It was a forerunner of other treats of international broadcasting which will break down the barriers of distance and alien customs," predicts this paper.

Mussolini has made an admirable bid for American friendship, rightly he has made it direct to the people rather than through the agencies of secret diplomacy," remarks the CLEVELAND NEWS, which, continuing, says: "His voice over the radio does not seem like that of the thunderer, defying the world. It is the voice of a modern statesman, employing modern and friendly means of attempting to gain the confidence and allies the friendship of his neighbors." As the ST. LOUIS TIMES describes the event: "Benito Mussolini's message came in a setting of charm. The atmosphere was perfect. It was the breadth of the campaign, the spirit of old art, the force of a new nation—all in a crowded half hour that was a triumph for international friendship. There was something about the message that came to us from the Italian capital that was not short of inspirational."

"The world is reminded once again that when Mussolini takes the speakers' platform he can be one of two persons. He can be the belligerent, defiant Fascist who delights in boasting the cast of countenance which he has assumed since he has been the far-sighted Italian statesman who realizes that his country's welfare is inextricably bound up with the peace and stability of the world. He chose to assume the latter role," says the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE, which further finds it "gratifying to be shown once again that even Fascism's chieftain can speak softly and sound the note of international friendship when he feels that way. If the same spirit would move him a little more often in his utterances for European consumption the world could rest a trifle more easily," suggests this paper.

The CHARLESTON (W. VA.) DAILY MAIL, to find it pleasing that "for once the modern uncrowned Caesar of real imperial physique has ceased rattling the sabre and has exalted the olive branch."

However, it Duce makes "sharp differentiation between home consumption and consumption abroad," contends the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL. "To America he sends the peace dove, but in Italy he pulls out the feathers of the screaming eagle." And in support of the statement this paper declares that "his words, heard by radio in thousands of American homes, were not even published in Italy," the Italians being given "a different address by their premier, an address demanding revision of peace treaties and insisting on increased armaments to resist the 'military hegemony' of France."

The KANSAS CITY STAR, recalling that Mussolini a few months ago had said, "Although words are beautiful things, rifles, machine guns, ships, airplanes and cannons are still more beautiful things," thinks it "may well be asked which sentiment expresses the true Mussolini. Is he urging peace or war?"

The BALTIMORE SUN also says: "Cynics and right thinkers are led to their endless debate as to if Duce's motives. Was he making amends for his recent biting of the hand that feeds him, or has he been converted by the writings of Foster and Catherings?" In light of his historic past, the public will be forgiven if it requires two or three further demonstrations before giving up the suspicion that the Mussolini dove of peace is a carrier pigeon flying in the direction of the banking district. The HARTFORD DAILY TIMES reasons that "the influence of the non-fascist world and the more fundamentally, he makes his peace with it the longer will fascism, thus modified, endure."

They have been coming back ever since where they are assured at least of a warm place to sleep, plenty to eat and two cents an hour for their labor.

They are not regarded as parole violators and can leave whenever they choose, but few of them do. The Warden justifies his action as an emergency measure to prevent robberies, check forgery, etc., too often the only course left an ex-convict unable to find work.

A JOURNEY TO VENUS

Being An Account Of A Flight Through Space From
The Earth To The Planet Venus

By S. S. MYERS

CHAPTER III

It did not take me long to reason out why the earth had apparently slipped from beneath us and risen up in our rear. Out in space there is neither up nor down. Down is toward the center of gravity; up is the opposite direction. We were now so far from the earth's center of gravity that it was losing its pull on us. On the same hypothesis I could account for my loss of weight because that is also a matter of gravity. Although we were still within the gravitational pull of the earth, it was so slight that it was scarcely felt. However, had we thrown some object overboard, it would have gravitated back toward the earth, slowly at first, but increasing in speed along the way. A few hours later, when Professor Scharwenski was again at the controls, he remarked to me that within the next twelve hours we would cross the orbit of the moon. "Will the moon interfere with our journey?" I inquired. "No," said he, "it will be on the other side of the earth." One of the impressive things on this journey was the action of the sunlight. We were traveling directly toward the planet Venus, which was off to the right of the sun, consequently the sunlight fell upon the front and slanting along the side of our ship. Its rays penetrated the interior giving us plenty of light and keeping the temperature up to about seventy. On the other side, where the sun's rays did not touch, the glass in the outer wall was as cold as ice, and continually covered with frost. Another light reflected from the hull of our ship, but outside, to the right and rear it was as dark as pitch. The line between darkness and light was clean cut, as there was no atmosphere to diffuse the light and shade it off as on the earth.

In due time it was announced that we were beyond the orbit of the moon, which meant that we were more than 240,000 miles from the earth. By this time the earth had diminished in size to a little less than four times the diameter of the moon as it appears from the earth, while Venus had increased slightly in size and appeared like a very small half moon.

On the twentieth day of our journey I inquired of Scharwenski as to our distance from the earth and the rate of speed we were making. (We calculated the days by our watches.)

"We can tell approximately the distance by measuring the diameter of the earth and that of Venus. According to my calculations, which agree with those of Dr. Swartz, we are now five million miles from the earth, and beyond its attraction. Consequently our speed is rapidly increasing. At present we are moving at the rate of about nine miles per hour, on our left there was a dim second, which is half a million miles in twenty-four hours. So you see the prospects are that we will eventually reach our destination—in something less than fifty days from the time we started I should say."

"Good heavens!" I exclaimed. "Half a million miles a day—and speed increasing! We'll smash into Venus like a flaming meteor and go up in sparks!"

"Not necessarily," replied the Professor with a smile. "We can slacken our speed by reversing the rocket machinery as we approach. As soon as we come within the attraction of Venus we will shut off the rockets and drift."

During the days that followed we cut some ludicrous figures in our attempts to walk about through our ship. The slightest attempt to move would send us floating about the compartment. The only way we could get anywhere was by holding to ropes which had been stretched along the walls.

Anything like a detailed record of the remainder of the journey would prove as monotonous to the reader as it did to us. We ate and slept by turns, always poised on a clean cut line between darkness and light. We found it advisable to keep out of the sunlight as much as possible. Its direct rays had a peculiar effect upon our nerves. Dr. Swartz explained that it was due to certain ultra violet rays from which the ozone in the earth's atmosphere protected us while on the earth, but out in space we lacked that protection. As a result it was found necessary to spread a canopy over a part of the front glass to shield those at the controls and instruments.

Gradually the earth became a mere star, although a very bright one while Venus had attained a diameter as large as our moon. It was approaching the sun about two degrees lower than that body. One fear that I had expressed to Scharwenski before the start was that as our sun is sweeping through space at the rate of a million miles a day and carrying the planets with it, might not we, when we got out in space, beyond the direct attraction of either the earth or Venus, be left behind? He assured me that we would still be within the gravitational field of the solar system and that such a thing could not happen. I found this to be the fact.

Gradually the surface of Venus expanded, but we could distinguish no outlines of seas or continents because of the heavy envelop of fog or clouds that surrounded it. The rockets had been shut off for some time, yet we were approaching rapidly. As we drew nearer it became evident that we were not drifting directly toward the planet, but rather around it. Not having any desire to become a satellite of Venus, our ship was headed directly in toward the planet and the propelling rockets brought into play. Thus we finally broke away from the centrifugal force, the planet gradually dropped beneath us and we began to acquire weight. The propelling rockets were shut off, the reverse brought into action and finally we plunged into the clouds on the sunlit side of the planet.

We could hear the sweep of the atmosphere on the outside, which gradually increased to a roar. Professor Scharwenski at the controls brought our ship to a slanting course and turned on the gas engines. Dr. Swartz at the instruments shouted: "Thirty miles above the surface and descending rapidly!"

Professor Scharwenski immediately nosed the plane upward and our speed gradually slackened. Though the clouds were dense the illumination of the sun made it light around us. Thus we planned along for some time, gradually drawing nearer to the surface, and finally passed through the dense fog into a misty atmosphere through which we could dimly see the body of the planet and discovered that we were over a body of water.

Get Expert To Diagnose Goiter Case

Authority Declares Some Enlargements Harmless

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Two facts about the thyroid gland account for the two simplest types of goiter.

One of these is the association of the thyroid with the function of reproduction. Women have a more complicated reproductive life than men, and the incidence of thyroid enlargement in women due to this cause is far greater than in men. The estral cycle and the estral life of women are activated by the secretion of the thyroid gland.

When a young girl reaches the age of adolescence, and rather rapidly acquires the functions and bodily form of an adult woman, the thyroid gland equally rapidly has to produce a larger amount of its secretion. Perfectly naturally, then it enlarges somewhat in order to do so. These soft swellings at the base of the neck in young girls do not indicate any disease of the thyroid but simply a natural increase in size due to increased activity of the thyroid. But quacks often "view them with alarm" and call them goiters and prescribe elaborate and expensive methods of treatment.

The final decision as to the harmfulness of any one of these enlargements should, of course, be left to an experienced physician. But in general it may be said that if the girl feels well the enlargement itself is of no importance.

The other form of simple enlargement of the thyroid is dependent on the fact that the thyroid secretion has a large amount of iodine in it. This iodine must come from drinking water or food.

Iodine is distributed unequally over the surface of the earth. Sea water and soil around the shores of the ocean contain a considerable amount. Fresh water which runs over or through this soil or vegetables growing in such soil or the meat of animals which graze on such vegetables will therefore contain iodine. Inhabitants of such districts acquire quite enough iodine in their water and food.

Other districts are extremely poor in iodine. These are the so-called "goiterous countries" and in these regions goiter of all kinds is remarkable for its frequent occurrence. Switzerland has long been the type country of this sort. The great surgeon Kocher, who did so much pioneer work in the surgery of the thyroid gland was a Swiss. A realistic Hollywood movie director having to film a scene in what was supposed to be a Swiss village some years ago advertised for a number of extras who had goiters. They acted as Swiss citizens.

In such districts, however, there is some iodine in the soil, and the thyroid has to extract as much of it as possible from the blood stream. In order to do so it increases the number of its acini, or collections of cell factories. This results naturally in a general increase in the size of the gland, which is usually harmless but may be prevented by using iodized salt in small quantities. In this country the region of the great lakes has the most notably iodine-poor soil.

Rev. W. T. K. Thompson, probation and parole officer of Mercer county, today submitted his report to the county court for the year ending December 31, 1930.

The financial section of the report shows that $14,603.37 was collected during the year. Fines paid to the county treasurer totalled $19,613.47.

The Mercer County Poor Board has organized for the current year by the following elections: J. P.

to the clerk of courts $4,197.80; to the state treasurer for motor tax violations $1,415; desertion and non-support, $52; refund $1.80. The balance on hand is shown to be $2,903.52. The statistical report shows that 183 were on parole January 1, 1930, with 135 placed under the department's charge in 1931, making a total for the year of 318. There were 114 honorable discharges; 15 violations of parole and five violations of probation. The number on parole January 1, 1931 was 146, on probation, 33.

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and carefree by nature, so when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it's constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

NIGHT COUGHING

Quick and Safe Way To Stop It!

Whatever it is due to—cold, catarrhal condition of the throat, dust irritations or smoking—night coughing can and should be stopped! Nothing will pull you down faster, for it not only deprives you of needed sleep, but it tears you to pieces. At the first sign of a cough, take good old "Piso's for Coughs." It does the things necessary to stop a cough and repair the damage done. It checks the cough spasm, loosens the mucus, opens the air passages and soothes the inflamed tissues. At the same time, it has a tonic value that tends to build up what the cough tears down. Only Piso's supplies these five vital effects and it contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach. Safe to give even to babies. All druggists sell Piso's in 35c and 60c sizes. Be sure you get "Piso's for Coughs."

Keep Close Count Of "Enemies" Slain

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The legendary "bad-man" of the western plains who added another nick to his "trusty weapon" each time "another varmint bit the dust" did not keep a more careful record than the employees at the two farms operated by the game commission for propagation of birds.

Predatory animals and birds seem irresistibly drawn toward the game farms where so many easily obtained meals were available. As a result one of the primary duties of the keepers at the farms is to kill, both by trap and gun, anything which may menace their charges.

The year's record for the Jordan game farm in Lawrence county included 23 weasels, 48 blacksnakes, 65 house cats, 35 opossums, 5 mink, 22 crows, 1132 rats, 141 hawks and 107 owls.

Because the nature of the country adjacent to the Fisher game farm in Montgomery county is less wild the kill there did not reach the totals boasted by that in Lawrence county.

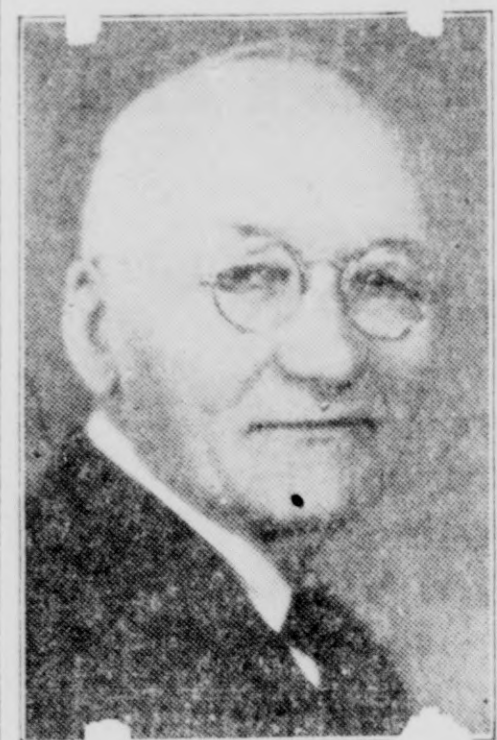

Nevertheless the keepers there reported 44 hawks of various varieties, 7 owls, 7 weasels, 5 dogs, 5 house cats, 4 gray foxes, 1 red fox and 12 opossums.

Employees at the game farms have been instructed to make careful studies of both birds and animals which are suspected of having predatory tendencies but which ordinarily are believed to be beneficial because of the pests which they destroy.

Nevertheless their primary orders are to keep an alert watch at all times to prevent anything harming the young pheasants which fall an easy prey to enemies of all kinds.

880 Ton Building Is Lifted By Hand

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 15.—Street widening projects in Portland have brought about many peculiar house moving stunts. The latest is a "hand-raised" building, the Salvation Army Citadel.

Not content with moving the 880-ton building back 27 feet, contractors "dug" a deeper basement by jacking the building up 11 feet with 132 hand operated lifting screws, each having a seven-ton lifting capacity.

The rows of jacks beneath the structure were attended by one man who, at a given signal, gave the screw a quarter turn. The building was raised at the rate of 20 inches a day.

While the moving and raising operations were in progress there was no suspension of business in the building with service connections maintained throughout.

New Castle Farthest Beetle Has Penetrated

(Special To The News) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—Fourteen years after the Japanese beetle was first discovered in the United States near Riverton, New Jersey, the most remote point at which the insect has established itself is at New Castle, Pennsylvania, an air-line distance of 285 miles from the site of the original infestation, according to the department of agriculture in a statement just made public.

Beetle scouts from the United States department of agriculture this summer searched for the pest in 16 states, including Ohio, North and South Carolina, and Georgia. Other isolated infestations at considerable distances from the beetles' starting point are those at Boston, Massachusetts; Buffalo, New York; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and Norfolk, Virginia. In the 14 years the beetle has been known in this country it has spread at the rate of but 20 miles a year.

Town Saves Babies By Raising Fish

Erects Library On Money Obtained From Sales Of Finny Tribe

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—One way of solving the baby health problem of a community is to raise fish, buy books with the profits, and then learn what to do next. How this unique method was employed successfully by Concordia Parish, La., was explained by Glenn Holloway of that community in an address before the American Library association here.

"The flood of 1927 wrought terrible devastation in Concordia Parish," said Holloway. "Our babies were suffering from malnutrition, and we racked our brains until we finally hit upon a plan."

"We built a 12-acre pond and dumped into it 129 fish. At the end of the season government officials estimated that there were 2,500,000 fish in that pond. They all grew from two inches until they were a foot long. Maybe this sounds like a fish story, but it's true."

"From the money we earned from selling fish we erected a library. The first year 2,000 books were circulated among 5,000 people, and every mother was given information. We obtained all the literature we could on child welfare from the Chicago board of health. Now there is no more malnutrition—since the library started. We call them library babies. I've got one myself. Look here."

U. S. Buys Palace For Diplomatic Corps In Berlin

New Building Will Be One
Of Finest In Capital

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The American Embassy which, for the past thirty years, has been wandering from house to house here, has at last found a permanent home in the German capital.

The historical "Bluecher Palace," beside the famous Brandenburger Tor and opposite the French Embassy, has been bought by the American government for $2,500,000.

After the necessary repair and refurnishing of the building is completed, it is estimated that the new American Embassy will be one of the finest foreign representations in the capital, worthy of the international standing of the United States and of the American colony here, which is generally regarded as the richest of all foreign colonies in Berlin.

All branches of consular and diplomatic service will be concentrated in the new Embassy building, which until now have been scattered all over the city. The purchase of the Bluecher palace will therefore mean a vast improvement over the present facilities for Americans visiting Berlin.

The state rooms and personal apartments of Ambassador Sackett in the new Embassy are facing the Pariser Platz. They are the same in which the Ambassador of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy lived for years before the war.

As an international courtesy, the city of Berlin will probably plant dark-red "American Beauty" roses on the green lawns before the new Embassy building, as it planted "La France" roses on the opposite lawns before the French embassy.

The palatial residence on the Pariser Platz was given to the Prussian national hero Prince Bluecher of Wahlstatt after the Wars of Liberation of 1813-15. During the inflation period, the fourth Prince of Bluecher sold it to the Czech banker Zimdin for 44 million paper marks, which is but a fraction of a gold mark. Zimdin had rented the palace to Prince Henkel of Donnersmark, a German bank director, and a German bank firm.

A dollar doesn't buy the value it once did. You notice it especially when you watch the dollar spent for education.

HOW ECZEMA IS CONQUERED

You can banish every trace of annoying Eczema and banish it in an astonishingly short time—this time next week your skin will be nearly healed and well on the road to enchanting loveliness and beauty—but you must use Peterson's Ointment.

Peterson's possesses such remarkable healing and soothing qualities that minor pimples and blackheads go like magic—that obstinate cases of burning Eczema are gone after a few days treatment. First application takes out itching and burning.

Virgie Hawkins of Wallace, Va., writes: "I had a very bad case of Eczema. The eruptions on one of my arms were so bad I couldn't use it. I got a box of Peterson's Ointment and in 2 weeks my Eczema had disappeared."

Eczema and itching skin can't withstand the powerfully healing influence of Peterson's Ointment and one 35c box will prove it. All drug stores.

LAMPS AND THEIR SHADES ARE IMPORTANT IN DECORATION OF ROOMS

Lamps and their shades are important things in the decoration of rooms. When they are all wrong in color, size, shape and pattern, they spoil the effect of good taste and harmony, which is the aim of the one who decorates the room. When they are interesting and harmonious they add enormously to the decorative effect. Some new lamps are pictured; left, a pottery base with a "travel" shade; right, shade done in punch or cut-out work reminiscent of the gay nineties; left above, white print on green; center, shade with hand-painted, overlapping petals on paper shade of unusual shape; right, shade with flowers copied from old prints and hand-painted on silk;

below, left to right, small lamp with fern pattern shade—ferns are shellacked on parchment; rich effect gotten by cutting out pattern from gold paper; hand-painted shade in design of classic simplicity.

Strategy Won For Kid McCoy In Many Bouts

Former Fighter Speaks Before Peace Officers Association

(International News Service)
SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Jan. 14.—Woman may have proven a stumbling block to many a man, but to Norman Selby, better known as "Kid" McCoy, she was useful in the fight game.

The former fighter, an inmate of the prison here, recently spoke before the Bay Counties Peace Officers' association. He related anecdotes of his ring career in which he again repeated his advice:

"Never let a woman turn your head."

This advice, he said, proved costly to a French fighter with whom the "Kid" once fought. Between rounds, McCoy kept waving to an imaginary woman in the gallery.

"This had the desired effect," McCoy said. "When the next round started, I repeated the gesture. The Frenchman grew curious and turned to look. He was knocked out."

"Later he met me and said, 'Did you know the girls at whom you were waving?' I said, 'No, but never let a woman turn your head.'"

Quick thinking on McCoy's part won him another fight years ago when he met a huge Kaffir, more than six and one-half feet tall and weighing far more than McCoy, who had recuperated a short time before from a serious illness. The Kaffir was such an "iron man" that on the day of the fight, his second stood in the ring hitting the fighter's hands with a wooden board.

When the fight started, the Kaffir's second threw a handful of tacks into the ring. Some of them struck the Kaffir on the back of the neck. He turned to dodge them, and in doing so, stepped on one. As he raised his foot, howling with pain, McCoy hit him flush on the jaw, knocking him out.

McCoy, now head of the San Quentin fire department, told his listeners of another instance when strategy won for him.

"I remember when I fought Sandy Ferguson, 6 feet 4 in his bare feet. It was quite a task to get the best of him, and I was getting weary. I had to beat him. I grabbed Sandy around the waist and pounded him on the toes with the heels of my right foot. When he yelled, and lifted one foot off the canvas, I knocked him out."

Father And Son Being Held As Counterfeiters

Pittsburgh Man And His Son Will Be Arraigned For Counterfeiting Quarters

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—A father and son, said to have admitted making counterfeit 25-cent pieces "to beat the slot machines, today were to be arraigned before United States Commissioner Roger Knox on a charge of counterfeiting."

Joseph Rehboitz, 54, and his son, Jerome Rehboitz, 24, were alleged to have made the counterfeit money in the basement of their home. The son was said to have played the "machines" and divided his winnings with his parent.

The son was arrested by United States secret service operatives, who report the destruction of the coins was done by the elder Rehboitz, who later surrendered himself.

The bride's mother was amazed. "What? Married less than three weeks and quarreling already?" she cried. "It's all George's fault," wept the bride. "He keeps insisting that he loves me more than I love him."

Globe Trotter Has Hard Life, But Survives

Newspaperman Sees Some
Curious Sights On Trip
Around World

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 15.—Los Angeles marveled at the feats of one of the latest distinguished visitors, Charles Tulka, globe-trotting newspaper correspondent of Czechoslovakia.

Tulka really globe-trotted his way around the world. He traveled 56,000 miles during his trip walking almost all of the distance.

"Over in the wilds of Syria," he said, "we found the native magazines were printing photographs of the American motion picture stars. As for flivvers, it seemed as if they were old residents. Some of them looked like it, anyway, for they were driven over all manner of roads and trails where a road was a fancy of the imagination."

"In some of the towns in various other countries we found American cars taking part in processions. Americans we found scattered in every land, working in oil fields, or in various other capacities."

The thrilling adventures related by the intrepid globe-trotter sound like a page from "Robinson Crusoe."

He told of how he was once bitten by a deadly poisonous snake in India. His life was saved by the natives. Another time he was waylaid by Persian bandits and robbed. Again he escaped from a colony of fugitive lepers in the mountains of Persia. Still another time he and a companion were lost in the desert, but were spared when discovered by the Foreign Legion troops.

Tulka's proudest achievement is his collection of signatures of famous men. The list includes: President Hoover, Lindbergh, Byrd, Wilkins, Edison, Coste, Bellonte and Jack Dempsey.

Clara Bow Weeps While On Stand

Says Former Secretary
Treated Her "Thin"
When Called To Testify

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 15.—Further intimate details of the home life of Clara Bow were promised today when the trial of Daisy Devore, dismissed secretary of the motion picture "It" girl, is resumed in Superior Judge William Doran's court.

Court bailiffs were prepared this morning to have even a greater crowd of curious than that which jammed the courtroom yesterday to hear the motion picture star testify from the witness stand that she chose to prosecute her former secretary rather than pay $125,000 for Miss Devore's silence. Miss Devore is charged with 37 counts of embezzling $16,000 from the screen star.

Miss Bow, following a storm of objections, was allowed to testify whether Miss Devore had demanded $125,000 after she had been dismissed.

"Daisy asked for her job back," Miss Bow testified. "Then I asked her if it was true that she had gone to my attorney, W. I. Gilbert, and demanded $125,000 of him."

A storm of objections here caused Miss Bow to break down and cry. She was allowed to resume her story. "She said she had come to my attorney and that it was true that she had asked for the money," Miss Bow testified. "Just then, that's the way my best friend treated me."

Police Hear Of Auto Accidents

H. M. Smith of 507 Blaine street, reported to the police Wednesday that he was enroute west on Grant street at the Erie Railroad crossing behind another machine. "The machine in front went across the crossing as the gates were being raised. As he was following through after the other machine, the north guard gate came down suddenly as his machine was directly under it, damaging his windshield and one of his headlights. Fortunately none of the persons in the car were injured."

John B. Clark of 809 Chestnut street, was enroute north on North Jefferson street at Falls street as a service truck of the Rick Overland Company driven by M. R. Sweet, Jr., came west on Falls street and the two cars came together. Some damage was done to both.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and other noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this paragraph and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer, perhaps from total deafness. The medicine can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's, or your druggist a 1 oz. bottle of Parmitin (Double Strength). Take this home, and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretion in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh should give this prescription a trial.

Red Cross Head Refutes Charges

Payne Promptly Issues Statement On Red Cross Finances

TELLS HOW FUNDS ARE BEING USED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, declared late Wednesday that he welcomed investigation, as threatened by some senators yesterday and issued a financial statement of that organization to disprove charges it had large reserve funds.

His statement came less than an hour after Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, had charged the Red Cross had as much as $25,000,000 now available for any purpose.

The exact financial situation of the Red Cross as of November 30, 1930, is this, the statement said:

"It has an endowment fund and reserve permanently invested of $11,253,000, the income of which only is available for current use.

"It has a disaster fund of $5,000,000 which has been appropriated for this present drought relief of which $1,000,000 has already been expended.

"After providing the budget of $2,226,000 for the work of this fiscal year, the Red Cross holds $1,734,000 devoted to our compelling obligations for continuing service to the disabled ex-service men and women of the World War."

The financial statement after naming other Red Cross funds already allocated to define needs said but $4,658,000 remained "to safeguard all the other obligations to which the organization is committed, including immediate response to any other domestic disaster which may occur and the continuance of the regular program of public health nursing, first aid and life saving, nutrition, home hygiene and care of the sick, junior Red Cross and work for men in the regular army and navy service."

Youth Wounded By Alleged Maniac In Philadelphia

Youth Standing On Street Corner Is Accosted Then Shot By Stranger

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—A maniac, believed crazed by liquor, early today shot and critically wounded Robert Yocum, 21, as he was standing at Whittaker street and Wyoming avenue.

Picked up by a passing motorist, Yocum was taken to the Jewish hospital, where physicians said he was in a dangerous condition.

Yocum told police that the stranger, a well-dressed man, asked him very courteously for a match. When it was proffered and a cigarette lighted the man offered him a drink from a pocket flask, he continued. When the offer was refused the stranger turned on his heel and walked away, Yocum told questioners. Walking in the opposite direction, he suddenly heard the sound of a man running.

Turning around, he perceived the stranger waving a pistol. As he turned to flee, Yocum reported, the man fired the weapon twice, one bullet taking effect in the youth's back and sending him to the sidewalk.

The stranger disappeared.

Bulletin Aids School Journeys
HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The Department of Public Instruction has issued a bulletin intended as an aid to teachers in organizing, conducting, and checking school journey work in Pennsylvania schools.

In his foreword to the bulletin, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. John A. H. Keith, says: "Just as Pestalozzi enriched teaching and facilitated learning through practical methods, so can the teachers of Pennsylvania make their work more effective by bringing pupils into direct contact with objects and phenomena about which they wish to learn, and by directing them into situations where they can see, handle and meditate upon the things with which their study is concerned. School Journeys make available a wealth of material that can be used to visualize and vitalize instruction."

Coal Office Is Heldup By Armed Trio Of Bandits

Logans Ferry Coal Company Officials Heldup And $350 Is Taken By Bandits

(International News Service)
NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Jan. 15.—County detectives and police throughout the Allegheny valley today were conducting a widespread search for three armed bandits who held up the office of the Logans Ferry Coal company, at Logans Ferry, and escaped with $350 in cash after a gun battle with the mine superintendent.

The three drew up before the company's office in an automobile late yesterday. Two of the thugs walked into the office and commanded Edgar Earney, mine superintendent, Samuel Orr, foreman, and J. Wiggins, a miner, to throw up their hands.

One of the gunmen bound the victims with rope and wire and then tore the telephone from the wall. The two then scooped up the contents of the cash box, said by Earney to have been about $350, the entire day's receipts from sales of coal.

Earney succeeded in freeing himself and opened fire on the bandits as they prepared to speed away in the automobile. One of the gunmen fired back but his shots went wide.

Police in New Kensington, Arnold, Springdale, Cheswick, Tarentum and Leechburg were asked to throw up a police guard in an effort to apprehend the bandits.

Canning Crops Work Receives Attention

Most Of Principal Canning States Throughout Country Ask For Advice

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Most of the principal canning states from the Pacific Coast to Maine have requested information from the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture regarding the system of buying and selling canning crops under state inspection undertaken here for the first time four years ago.

"A request was received some months ago by the Department from the United States of Soviet Russia for the details of this method of handling canning crops. Two requests have recently been sent to the Pennsylvania canning industry for speakers at meetings to be held at Chicago and Trenton, N. J."

"The first canning grading in Pennsylvania was carried on in 1927 when 235,000 pounds of tomatoes were classified by State inspectors. This system of handling canning crops has grown in four years to the point where in 1930 over 50,000,000 pounds of apples, beans, cherries, tomatoes and grapes for grapejuice manufacture were classified by Pennsylvania inspectors."

Federal statistics indicate that the sale of milk alone is the source of a greater cash income to farmers than the sale of field, fruit and vegetable crops combined. Furthermore, the revenue from milk equals approximately one-half of the total cash income from all livestock and livestock products sold from the farm.

It has been estimated that dairying is the principal source of income on approximately 100,000 of the State's 172,000 farms. Not long ago, a study of the principal sources of farm revenue in forty of the leading agricultural counties of the Commonwealth revealed that milk led in thirty-three.

First Christians Choose Officers

Annual Meeting Of Congregation Begins With Splendid Dinner In Dining Room

The annual congregational meeting of the members of the First Christian church began most auspiciously Wednesday evening with a splendid dinner, prepared and served by the members of the church, with Dr. G. S. Bennett invoking the divine blessing on the assembled persons.

The deacons chosen for two years included Miss Anna Perry, Herman Workman, Charles Johnson, Jr., Ira Snider, E. D. Marvin, B. F. Butler, R. D. Forrest, Ben Johnson, J. W. Lindsay and Amos Myer.

At the close of the congregational meeting the board met and reorganized with the result that J. G. Jones was again chosen as president; W. E. Agnew, vice president; C. D. Miles, secretary; R. L. Boyd, treasurer; Mrs. James Blaine, financial treasurer, and J. H. Riley, missionary treasurer.

Dairying Leads As Farm Enterprise
HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Dairying, a business which less than a century ago was represented by the "family cow," the hand powered dash churn and the milk crock on the cellar or spring house floor, is now by far the outstanding farm enterprise in Pennsylvania, according to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Federal statistics indicate that the sale of milk alone is the source of a greater cash income to farmers than the sale of field, fruit and vegetable crops combined. Furthermore, the revenue from milk equals approximately one-half of the total cash income from all livestock and livestock products sold from the farm.

It has been estimated that dairying is the principal source of income on approximately 100,000 of the State's 172,000 farms. Not long ago, a study of the principal sources of farm revenue in forty of the leading agricultural counties of the Commonwealth revealed that milk led in thirty-three.

Prison Workers Finish Tag Order

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Of the 1,568,000 sets of motor vehicle tags called for in the 1931 contract to the Western State Penitentiary, more than 1,100,000 sets have been shipped for issue and the remainder will be completed by January 15, according to a report of the division of prison labor, State Department of Welfare.

Welfare, as under way at the nursery of the new Western Penitentiary at Rockview.

More than 35 quarts of bitter-sweet berries were sown in the nursery beds for growth experiment. A black walnut plantation was established by planting nuts rather than seedling trees.

One acre of evergreen trees was planted to determine the practicability of fall planting.

U.S. Abounds In Unsung Heroes, Thinks Writer

Lowell Thomas Takes Delight In Searching Them Out

International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—America has a vast army of unsung heroes. Beginning life as a prospector for gold in the west Lowell Thomas, world traveler, speaker and at present nightly announcer of news events for The Literary Digest's radio hour, has, in his more recent years, become one of the world's most noted prospectors for heroes.

"In nearly every state of the union," said Thomas at his Sutton Place apartment recently, "can be found one or more men who have a thrilling life story. Often these men, who are the real heroes of the country, are overlooked by the rest of us through the modesty of the man responsible for them. When I've dug up their stories and presented them in book form they've come to me almost invariably by accident. I've stumbled on to them and in many cases it has taken a good deal of persuasion to convince the heroes that their stories may be interesting."

Thomas was talking about Captain Julius Lauterbach, the subject of his most recent book, "Lauterbach of the China Sea." Everyone who watched the World War had heard of the exploits of the German raider Emden, that paralyzed shipping in the Oriental seas shortly after the opening of the war. That was only a prologue to the adventures in the way of Captain Julius Lauterbach, who was a navigation officer aboard the Emden. After his vessel was cornered in the Indian ocean Lauterbach played a leading part in starting the famous Singapore mutiny. He fled more than half way around the world to return to his native town in Germany where his even more hazardous exploits attracted to him the attention of the entire world. Then, the war ended, he went to San Francisco where he was lost in comparative obscurity.

Captain Lauterbach is only one of several men of thrilling lives who have been brought into public notice by Lowell Thomas. His most noted find is the mysterious "Lawrence of Arabia," the subject of the first Thomas book. Count Felix von Luckner, the "sea devil" of World War fame, is another soldier of fortune whose popularity became so great after publication of his exploits that he has made more than a thousand lectures throughout the United States.

"There is more sport in bringing into public view the unknowns of thrilling adventures than in writing about those whose place in history is already made," said Thomas. "In almost every case the subjects of my books have been little to boast about in the deeds that make up their life history. But once they are presented to the public the readers seem to disagree with these subjects."

Out on an Indiana farm lives one of the most famous of the Thomas discoveries. He is Samuel Woodfill, who was called by General Pershing the "greatest soldier of the American army" in France. The heroic deeds of Woodfill in the Argonne, Thomas found, were enough to make up any book of adventure. But upon investigation he found that the career of the Indiana farmer-soldier had extended into China, the Philippines and even the Arctic. "Woodfill of the Regulars" proved to be one of the most popular books on the American market.

As a result of his travels throughout the country, and the reputation he has gained for bringing to light unsung heroes, Thomas will introduce to the American audience within the next few months another "unknown" whose thrilling adventures make him worthy of a place in the contemporary hall of famous men.

No Students Will Go To Syracuse

Board Does Not Authorize Sending Of Any School Musicians

On Wednesday evening, Miss Gladys Rich, music supervisor called the attention of the New Castle school board to the fact that on March 17-20 a convention of music supervisors would be held in Syracuse, N. Y., at which a combined orchestra of several hundred high school musicians would play. She wondered if the New Castle Schools cared to send three students who have stood out in orchestra work.

The board expressed its interest in such a proposal but decided that at the present time it would not be wise to authorize the expenditure of funds to send the students to the convention.

J. Herbert McIlvenny, chairman of cafeterias suggested that a dining room be provided for teachers in the Senior High school, that better lighting be provided, and that a slot be cut in the wall of the cafeteria for the return of used dishes. No action was taken but the matter will probably be adjusted later.

Routine Matters In School Board

Refrigerator Is Purchased For George Washington High School

H. R. Huston was awarded a contract Wednesday evening by the New Castle school board for a new refrigerator to be used in the George Washington junior high school cafeteria, at a cost of $765. The refrigerator now in use in the Washington school will be transferred to the senior high school cafeteria, as it is the size desired for that school, whereas the new one is somewhat larger and is the size needed for the Washington school.

Solicitor William J. Moffatt was asked the status of the claim of the New Castle school board against the Neshannock township school district for tuition long since due. He replied that suit had been entered against Neshannock township, but that the case had not yet been entered on the trial list.

The board passed a resolution notifying married school teachers that no contracts would be tendered for the coming year.

Roy W. Hazen of the sinking fund committee called the attention of the board to the fact that bonds amounting to $85,000 were due on March 1, 1931, and then prepared a detailed statement of the condition of the sinking fund. Arrangements will be made to pay the bonds as they come due in accordance with a bond payment schedule adopted several years ago.

In a short time preliminary drafts of the budget for the coming year will be begun. The budget must be prepared and the tax rate set at the April meeting, and as the work requires considerable time, it will be commenced soon.

Sergeant Stewart Will Leave City

National Guard Troop Officer Goes To Canton, O.; Stay May Be Permanent

Sergeant Lee W. Stewart of Troop F will leave New Castle Sunday for Canton, O., where he has accepted a position with the Canton Construction Steel company. A furlough will probably be granted the troop officer by Capt. Harvey G. Blintrim, commander of the local unit of the National Guard.

Sgt. Stewart has been connected with "F" for four years, and has proven himself one of the most able officers of the outfit. He is a member of the crack rifle team which succeeded in winning the state troop championship. During the summer he was a member of the rough riding squad.

His stay in Canton may be permanent, he believes. Guardsmen and officers here will regret his leaving.

Ice Skating Party.

Climaxing a season of enjoyment and ending the semester activities, over 50 girls of the New Castle senior high school Girl Reserve club had an ice skating party at Lakewood on Wednesday night.

In the twilight hours the girls slid over the ice on their skates and the event proved to be just about the most enjoyable ever. There were mishaps, and most of the girls were ice skating for the first time.

Then there were hot dogs and coffee. After an hour of ice skating, there could have been nothing more satisfying to the appetite than that.

Transportation to Lakewood was under the supervision of Rosalyn Freeman, assistant social chairman. Dorothy Cain was chairman of the entire event. Ruth Forrest was in charge of the food.

Miss Caroline Streeter, Miss Nellie Dyer and Miss Grace Lowers of the Y. W. C. A. were present.

Girls who didn't skate enjoyed dancing in the pavilion.

Advisor Chosen.

Miss Louise Fink is the advisor to the Scioto street Girl Reserve club. It was announced this morning by Miss Grace Lowers, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve department.

Miss Fink will probably be present at the meeting of the club to be held in the Neighborhood house, Scioto street, this evening.

Assurance Is Given Oil Men

Democratic Members Of House Committee Will Force Hearing On Proposed Tariff

OIL DELEGATES HEAR REP. GARNER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Assurance that the Democratic members of the House Ways and Means committee would vote to force a hearing on the proposed tariff on petroleum oil was given to more than 125 delegates from 11 oil producing states by Rep. Garner (D) of Texas, House Democratic leader this morning.

The delegates, headed by Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum association, met in the House caucus room to hear the opinion of House Senate leaders on such a tariff which they claim is necessary to save the independent oil industry.

Favors Proposal. Garner, as leader of the 10 Democrats on the committee, which has a membership of 25, said, "as a member of the committee I favor a hearing. And if you make as good a case this year as you did last I'll vote in favor of a tariff on oil."

This was interpreted as meaning that most, if not all, of the Democrats on the committee would favor the hearing.

Garner advised the oil men to go to each member of the committee and ask them "where they stood on the tariff." "That way," he said, "you will know where to place the responsibility."

Meanwhile President Hoover's aid in the situation was sought by A. M. Landon, chairman of the Independent Producers association of Kansas. Accompanied by Senator Capper and Rep-elect McGugin of Kansas, he went to the White House and discussed the situation at some length with Mr. Hoover.

No Other Amendments. Rep. Leavitt (R) of Mont., remarked to Garner "you ought to have an agreement that there won't be a lot of other amendments besides the oil amendment, tacked on to the tariff bill. The majority should be assured that we won't take advantage of this parliamentary situation to open up the tariff bill for a lot of other amendments."

Franklin, as chairman of the meeting, cautioned against "playing politics," when relief is in order politics should be adjourned," he said.

Stevenson Sends Grape Fruit To Jameson Hospital

Porto Rico Resident Still Has Big Interest In Old Home Town

From sunny Porto Rico, Bert Stevenson, former New Castle man, has sent two cases of 24 cans each of canned grape fruit for the use of the Jameson Memorial hospital. The gift was just one more indication of the interest Mr. Stevenson retains in his old home town.

The cans are the large size and will be welcomed in the hospital where such things are an important part of the hospital diet.

Before he left New Castle to become a Porto Rican planter, Mr. Stevenson was active in civic affairs. He was a member of the local unit of the United States Veterans of War. He had forgotten his old interests for the new ones but through the quarter century he has been on the island, he has never lost interest in New Castle.

Regularly he returns to the United States for a visit and with Mrs. Stevenson spends most of his time in and around New Castle.

Hadassah Honors Great Philanthropist

Memory Of Nathan Straus Honored At Meeting Of Local Chapter Tuesday

The New Castle Chapter of the Hadassah held their board meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Sam Levine, Edison avenue, and the members gave cause and sounded sorrow at the passing on of Nathan Straus, the great friend and benefactor of Hadassah and Zionism, and the world's greatest philanthropist.

From 1912 up to the present time his great personal interest spurred the members to greater creative effort whereby a unified system of health has been built up in Palestine. He gave his fortune for the establishment of health stations, infant welfare work and the Zionist cause and a lasting memory to his name is the Lena and Nathan Strauss center in Palestine.

Mrs. A. H. Vikman of New York City, the national chairman of the membership committee has sent word to the chapters to hold January as a membership month, designating that intensive drives through the country be put on. ## Thyroid Gland Research Wins Doctor Honor

Was Among First To Discover Benefits Of Iodine In Treatment

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The 1930 New York Academy of Medicine gold medal has been awarded to Dr. David Marine, assistant professor of pathology at Columbia University, and director of laboratories in the Montefiore Hospital, for his original researches into the structure, functions, and diseases of the thyroid gland.

Dr. Marine was one of the first to investigate thoroughly the relation of iodine to the structure and functions of the thyroid gland. In the course of his work, he investigated goiter in most of the domestic animals, as well as in fish. On the basis of his experiences in the control of goiter in animals, Dr. Marine, in cooperation with Dr. Kimball, instituted the first large scale attempt to prevent simple goiter in man.

This epoch-making experiment was carried out in Akron, Ohio, in 1917. In this city, 57 per cent of school girls in the second decade of life were found to suffer from simple goiter. By the feeding of minute quantities of iodine to the susceptible population, the prevalence of simple goiter was markedly reduced.

The prevalence of goiter means much more than the eradication of an unsightly deformity. It contributes, in addition, to the control of a number of physical and mental deformities such as cretinism, mutism and iodine, which are in some manner related to the normal functioning of the thyroid.

The thyroid gland, its functions and diseases, is the best known among the glands of internal secretion and this is largely due to the efforts of Dr. David Marine.

Dr. Marine was born in Whiteleyburg, Maryland, on September 20, 1880. In 1900 he received the degree of B. A. from Western Maryland College, and that of M. A. in 1907, having graduated in the meantime from Johns Hopkins in 1905 with the degree of M. D.

He was resident pathologist at the Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland from 1905 to 1907, instructor in pathology in Western Reserve University in 1907 and 1908, and instructor, assistant professor, and associate professor of experimental medicine at the same institution from 1908 to 1920. In 1920 he came to Columbia University where he has since remained as assistant professor of pathology, acting at the same time as director of laboratories in the Montefiore Hospital. During the War he served as captain, major, and lieutenant colonel in the Medical Corps, U. S. A.

Prison Grads Will Remain In Alma Mater

Receive Diplomas At Unique Exercises Held In San Quentin

RETURN TO DUTIES AFTER PROGRAM ENDS

By HAROLD HEROUX
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 15.—Diplomas were received at San Quentin prison recently by 561 men and women inmates, signifying that they had successfully completed courses of study laid down for them by the prison's educational director, H. A. Shuder.

The graduating exercises were held in the library in an atmosphere of solemnity and dignity and the graduates received their certificates with pride and satisfaction.

Of course there were no "sweet girl" graduates and the "men of the university" did not square back their shoulders and set forth to conquer the world.

They went back to the jute mill, the prison garden or the kitchen, as the case might be, but they had a new snap in their step as they crossed their walled-in "campus" and a fresh spirit as they attacked their uninteresting tasks.

Under the direction of Shuder the prisoners completed courses in philosophy, engineering, languages, history, accounting and bookkeeping.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Dean J. W. Hall, of the University of Nevada.

He was followed by Dr. Cyrus Need, University of California; Dr. A. A. Heller, counselor of trade schools for the city of Oakland; Dr. Benjamin Mallory, University of California; and Dr. John Altucker, professor of vocational education at Mare Island.

Shuder said statistics reveal that San Quentin's prisoners, due to a great extent to the "school," rate higher than those of any other penal institution in the United States in intelligence tests.

Next semester, he stated, five-eighths of the inmates will be enrolled in courses of study.

1930 Dog Licenses Now Out Of Style

Owners Who Have Not Provided Dogs With 1931 Tags Are Taking Chances

Dogs wearing 1930 license tags will not be in style after today according to County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley, as this is the last day on which the 1930 tags are valid.

"Owners of dogs are required to provide their pets with new license tags by January 15," said the county treasurer who added that there has been a slight falling off in the new licenses issued today as compared to this date one year ago.

Less than three thousand tags have been issued for 1931 by the county treasurer's office. It is believed that there are over 6000 dogs in the county, so that only about one half of them have been provided with the 1931 tags.

Licenses will still be issued at the treasurer's office, but owners of dogs who have failed to provide them with licenses are taking a chance of having them killed. Business at the office was fairly active today, but there was no great rush.

Booklet Tells Of State's Resources

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs through its bureau of topographic and geologic survey has just issued a booklet, vest pocket size, on "The Resources of Pennsylvania in a Nutshell." The booklet deals with subjects covering the formation of the land which makes up Pennsylvania, its natural resources and its industries and points out that while the State is thirty-second in size in the country it is second in population, wealth and productive industry and first in mining, in forty-two leading manufactured products and in power production. A dozen cuts are used in the sixteen-page booklet.

In one year, the booklet points out, Pennsylvania stood first in the production of cement, raw clay, coal coke, ferro-alloys, pig iron, mineral paints, and slate, in the same year standing second in the production of fuel briquettes, clay products, lime, sand and gravel, silico sand and stone, and third in natural gas and sulphuric acid from copper and zinc smelters. The little edition points out that our present Pennsylvania products about one-seventh of the world's coal supply; more pig iron than any other state or nation and one-tenth of the world's supply of cement.

Industrial Data
Will Be Compiled

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Twenty-five thousand blank forms on which manufacturers in Pennsylvania will record their business operations in 1930 have been sent to the various industrial concerns in the Commonwealth by the bureau of statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

The reports ask for the value of products last year, the number of employees, wages and salaries paid and various other bits of information which go to make up the story of Pennsylvania's industrial activities over a period of a year.

Under the law manufacturers are allowed until February 1 to return the completed forms and at that time tabulations on industry in the various counties and larger municipalities of the State will be started.

Will Show Work
Of Health Units

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—The State Department of Health has planned an elaborate exhibit for the Pennsylvania Farm Show in the form of motorized units indicating the work done in the field on rural child health, chemical analyses of water, pollution of streams and milk control. In addition, the exhibit will include a photographic display of the activities connected with the Crippled Children's Hospital at Elizabethtown.

To care for emergency treatment the Department will also operate four first-aid stations which will be manned by medical and nursing personnel during the entire time that the exhibit building is open to visitors.

Restore Inter-School
Athletics For Girls

Rescinding the action of September 10, 1930, the New Castle School Board on Wednesday evening restored inter-scholastic competitive athletics for junior high school girls. This means that the girls of the Franklin and Washington schools can now resume athletic relations.

The policy adopted on September 10 was in line with a recommendation by the health director, Dr. Mary J. Baker, that she thought competitive athletics were not a good thing for girls of such tender years, the mental and physical strain being too much for them.

Mrs. Douthett Moves Change
In moving to rescind the previous courage and stamina and sports-manship among boys, we need it no less among girls and because of these many reasons, I move that the board rescind its action of September 10."

J. Herbert McIlvenny was not convinced that athletics are good for girls of junior high school age. "It seems to me that all the strenuous work entailed in athletics is a bad thing for girls that age," said he. "Girls are not built to withstand the physical strain that boys are, and I feel that we should not expect little girls to undergo the strain of such games. In addition, our health director and superintendent have said that in their opinion inter-scholastic competitive athletics is bad for young girls. Why not take their words for it? I am against restoring the system we had."

Girls And Boys Mlike
"Athletics in the school are a good thing for boys and I believe they are a good thing for girls," said A. C. Hyde. "We endeavor to build up their bodies through exercise and athletics and I believe it is a good thing for girls, properly supervised I am for the motion."

"Proper games and exercises have no ill effects upon girls," said Mrs. John Elliott. "We should restore the competitive athletics."

Upon a vote of the board the motion carried and inter-scholastic games can now be resumed by the junior high school girls.

The bulk of the trouble was provided by interested spectators who refused to "move on." Nine men and a 16-year-old girl were arrested.

Rev. A. Zahniser Revival Services

Evangelist Elmer McKay of Greenville, Ill., and Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser, a former district elder of the New Castle district, are conducting a successful series of revival services in the Upper Third Avenue Free Methodist church in New Brighton.

Friday evening Mr. McKay will preach a sermon especially to the young people on "The Bible Under Fire". Sunday evening he is to speak on "Where Are The Dead." Meetings are held nightly at 7:30; afternoon services at 2 o'clock; the meetings will continue until January 25.

County School Directors Hear Of Present Needs At Meeting Wednesday

Financial situation of the Pennsylvania school system, of the county school system and of the national system were the chief topics of discussion at the Wednesday afternoon session of the Lawrence County school directors annual convention.

Dr. Lee Driver, state director of rural schools, Bart Richards, city representative to the state assembly, and Dr. W. E. Wenner, superintendent of the Ashtabula schools, were the speakers of the session, and each gave a clear picture of facts as they are and how best to remedy them, and what the directors can do in the matters.

It was an interesting afternoon for the over sixty directors in attendance, and of real benefit. After each address the speakers answered any questions of the directors and the discussion was of general all round help.

Dr. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist church, opened the afternoon meeting with reading of the scripture and prayer.

Union High Students Perform
Union Township Supervisor of Music, Robert Duff, was in charge of the musical program. Supervisors Duff had brought seven boys from the Union township schools with their hand instruments, and the boys played two hymns—"Abide With Me" and "Song of My Soul."

Five of the boys were sixth graders and two were eighth graders. Four of the boys had begun instrumental study just since September and the others had been at it a year. The band showed itself to be excellent.

Six seventh grade girls, a double trio, gave several song selections—"Masses In De Col' Col' Ground," "Juanita," and "Santa Lucia." The girls took three parts and did it very well.

Dr. Lee Driver, state director of rural schools, spoke on the subject—"Financing the Public Schools." Dr. Driver had kindly consented to substitute for D. E. Crosey, whose name appeared on schedule, but who was unable to be present.

"Financial difficulties are caused in my opinion, entirely because of the lack of practical, good sense management of affairs," Dr. Driver stated. "Poor tax collectors, poor assessors, poorly managed spending, cause the financial difficulties," he said.

Dr. Driver mentioned that money would go further if better contracts were made. Often contracts of several years duration are to the advantage of the school system, rather than one year contracts. He spoke of the correct methods of taking in bids, etc.

Must Use Common Sense
"School directors of counties must use good common sense, judgment and they must put much thought to their task. Then a dollar will go farther in the right direction," Dr. Driver said.

Transportation of school children to and from school has improved tremendously in recent years. There are complaints often from the parents of the children, often adjustments must be made, but on the whole the transportation system has proved quite satisfactory, the speaker explained.

He spoke of the care necessary in selecting bus drivers, of licenses, and other matters frequently under discussion.

The question arose among the directors, concerning promoting children before they ordinarily would be promoted. Dr. Driver said that absolutely, under no condition should school students complete their school education in less time than allotted them. If there is a very unusual condition it is permissible, but he added that he believes it to be much more injurious than beneficial to a pupil.

In conclusion Dr. Driver remarked about the close collaboration between the county directors and the county superintendent of schools. He added that the county was fortunate in having such a competent superintendent as John C. Syling.

Richards Speaks
Assemblyman Richards gave a brief address in which he stated that the department of public instruction of this state is in need of a thorough cleaning out. Powers have been taken away from the county men that never should have been taken away. The department must be curbed, he said. Graduates of the liberal arts colleges cannot be placed in the elementary schools of the county. They must be of the State Teachers colleges, according to the rule of the department of public instruction. Why? "Just because." The graduates of the liberal arts colleges are really qualified, but the schools aren't "credited" according to the department ruling. It is an apparent endeavor to skid out liberal arts colleges.

Wenner Speaks
Dr. W. E. Wenner was the last speaker of the afternoon. His subject centered around the financial situation of the county as a whole. He said that problems that should be taken care of by the home and church have been shifted to the shoulders of the public school system. It makes too much for the schoolers and he urged that the educators try to remedy this condition, that the problems of raising children be divided between the home, the school and the church.

"I believe that sports in the schools are invaluable to the nation. The leisure of children has been increased greatly in the past 20 or 30 years and sports in the schools are outlets for their excess pep and energy. Otherwise the energy would come out in negative ways. Sports answered the need," Dr. Wenner pointed out.

"Safeguard the home. Get a dollar's worth out of every dollar. Look for facts. Find them and then face them," he concluded.

President W. H. Helle adjourned the meeting until 9:30 Thursday morning.

Addresses will be given today, by Dr. Wenner, S. H. Replegle, Hon. George T. Weininger.

Directors Register
Directors registering Wednesday afternoon are: W. H. Helle, W. H. Buchanan, of Taylor township; J. V. Moore, James W. Gilmore, of Little Beaver township; Anna Marshall, James P. Crawford, M. J. ## Play For Benefit Of Relief Fund

"Is Zat So" Should Draw Big Crowd At Two Performances

With but a week left before the opening night of "Is Zat So", the advance sale of tickets is not as healthy a one as the committee in charge would like to see. Thus far the sale has amounted to 300 tickets and while this will be increased, undoubtedly, it is felt that at least 1000 seats should be disposed of now.

The play is being presented by the Civic Theatre Guild and the net proceeds are to go to the Mayor's Committee on Relief. For this reason it for no other, it is urged that the citizens get their seats as early as possible.

The cast of "Is Zat So" is a splendid one, some of the best amateur talent of the city being listed in it. Rehearsals indicate that the show will be a dramatic success, and all of the players are giving their time and talents free.

The show will be presented on January 21 and 22 in the Senior high school auditorium and should attract two capacity houses.

Rabbi To Discuss Loyal Jew Theme

Sermons Are Announced For Temple Israel On Friday Night

"Loyalty is a concept which is frequently misunderstood, or willfully misinterpreted. Mistaken loyalty like misguided patriotism has served as a cloak for many a scoundrel to cover up his nefarious ends. What then is the true definition of loyalty as an ideal? How does Jewish loyalty fit into the scope of such definition? 'Who has a right to look upon himself as a loyal Jew?' These questions will be discussed by Rabbi Menkes at the regular Friday evening services at Temple Israel tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock.

Saturday morning services at 10:30 a. m. Following the Friday evening services a social hour will be held with Mr. and Mrs. William Goldblatt acting as hosts, in honor of Mr. Gornick's return from his Western trip.

Parole Youth In Chum's Death

Claims He Only Meant To Frighten Younger Boy, Believing Gun Unloaded

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—A tragedy of boyhood was legally closed today with William Davis, Jr., 18, free on a parole of three years for the fatal shooting of his 11-year-old chum, Carl Weismiller. Testimony was to the effect that Davis pointed a gun at the younger boy as Carl lit a cigarette and ordered: "If you smoke that cigarette, I'll shoot you."

Carl chuckled and smoked on. A shot rang out and he crumpled to the ground, fatally wounded. Davis said he thought the gun was unloaded and that he had only meant to frighten Carl.

The young spendthrift at college was broke. He was going to write to his father for money. This time he decided to write a little original so as to make a strong impression

The angry father grabbed a sheet of paper and with shaking hand he wrote back to his son: "Who is a bum? Who is a bum?" until he got to the bottom of the sheet, and then he signed it—"Your father."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Make Child Feel At Ease In Reciting

Student Praises Psychologist's Classroom Advice

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

Some time ago I wrote, "To Our Children's Teacher". I received this letter in reply to it from San Jose, Cal.:

"Dear Dr. Myers: Really, you know, you ought to frame this clipping. You seem to be the first grown-up that has had such ideas."

To the letter was attached the clipping of my column with much of the following underlined: "When a child rises to recite we wish he felt he did not have to hurry, but that he had all the time he needed to marshal his ideas and to express them accurately without embarrassment; that he did not, during his effort to recite, need to keep wondering what the other children were going to say about his answers when he had finished, did not need to fear that they were going to make fun of him or that you, his teacher, were going to utter some 'wise crack' causing the other children to ridicule him; that the reciting child, moreover, felt free to be honest and to say, 'I do not know' when such were the fact, without the fear that you would answer him, 'Of course you know; think, now, think.'"

"We know that you have a crowded program and that you feel at times compelled to hurry the children. But when you do try to hurry them you must know that you only make them learn more slowly. The crowded-for-time child grows self-conscious and makes more mistakes; as he makes these errors they annoy him and cause him to make still more mistakes. These mistakes also disturb you, causing you to become less calm, even to be irritable. As he observes your annoyance at him his self-consciousness increases. His mind is more and more on you, and his own feelings, less and less on the thing he is trying to learn. You see, then that the more you hurry a child while he is trying to think, trying to learn, the more you disturb his thinking and retard his learning."

"The same thing happens at home when we parents try to help him with his lessons. 'You and I, like the child, learn best when we feel most at ease, and we learn least when we are disturbed by distracting emotions. We parents have read some of the psychology which you, the teachers of our children, have studied. What we have said about a child's feelings and learning are taught in that psychology. We wish you would apply it.'"

Lines were drawn around the first paragraph. After it was printed large THINK.

After "As he observes your annoyance" there was written on the margin, "Too mild."

I should like this student to know that I have written on this subject to teachers, articles having appeared in the National Journal of Educational Method, National Journal of Mental Hygiene, and Journal of Education, and that I shall devote a great deal of space to it in my next book, "Building Personality in the Child". I have often spoken before groups of teachers on the subject. Apparently each teacher thinks I am talking about some other teacher. Aren't we human beings funny?"

New Financial Wizard Appears

Illinois Speculator Pays Tremendous Dividends To Investors

(International News Service)

BEHAVIOR, Ill., Jan. 15.—Albert William Benham, regarded by his neighbors as a financial wizard, awoke today to find the attention of thousands focused on him and his operations, which have enabled him to pay from 20 to 50 per cent interest on short term notes.

Transacting his business in a stuffy office in a small garage here, Benham has taken the savings of hundreds of his neighbors and invested them in his secret speculations with the resulting dividends of 40 or 50 per cent being returned. Clients gather weekly in his cubicle office to receive their profits from a huge roll of bills Benham carries.

Heavy withdrawals at the Belvidere bank were traced to the growing popularity of Benham as an investor, and bankers called in representatives of the state department of registration and education, but that department, after an investigation, decided it had no jurisdiction.

Benham, while not revealing the exact nature of his investments, said he was neither speculator nor gambler.

"I like to be investigated," he said with a chuckle, "the investigators become customers. More money comes in. More profits are made, and Belvidere knows no depression."

In the history of the United States, to whom was the expression "blue light" applied? Blue light was a name applied to a member of that faction of the federalist party which opposed the war of 1812. It was derived from the fact, or alleged fact, that when Decatur, with two frigates, was blockaded by a superior English fleet in the harbor of New London, Conn., in 1813-1814, certain federalists warned the English commander by burning blue lights at the entrance of the harbor each time the Americans attempted to get to sea under cover of darkness.

GARDNER NEWS

Mrs. Harriett Ferree of New Castle gave her children and grandchildren a genuine holiday feast one day recently. The turkey was cooked and served at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Charles McGary, of Gardner. They and their little folks Harriet, Margaret, and Charles Junior, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferree, and children Dorothy and Robert, of Youngstown, were all enthusiastic in their praise of the many good things which Mother Ferree provided in such generous measure.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGary and daughter Mildred, of New Castle came to Gardner one afternoon and took all the family of Charles McGary to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McGary of the Wilmington road.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray, and little folks, Bobby and Evelyn June, of Wilmington avenue, in New Castle came to Gardner last Sunday and were guests at the Benson homestead, and called on others of their former neighbors.

Mrs. G. H. Cowmeadow, of the Frew Mill road, who was ill, is now improving and her mother Mrs. Wilcox, was able to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital last Sunday, and the family feel greatly encouraged because both mother and daughter are doing well.

Miss Anna Fishburn, daughter of Mrs. Willard Shaffer of the Butler road, returned to her home after visiting her cousin Mrs. William Gibson of Princeton. Miss Ethel Shaffer is ill at home and not able to be in school on account of grippe. There is a new organization at Gardner. It is called The Joy Givers. Now please do not all speak at once, and declare your intention to join, for if you are less than seven, or more than seventeen years of age then you must forever remain simply an innocent bystander. But for those who ages permit them to be admitted inside this magic circle, it would be hard to find anything finer, more worth while. The young people at Gardner are to be congratulated that they are now to be taught how to be real joy givers, and they cannot realize the happiness they will find as they try to bring sunshine and gladness into the lives of others. They are to meet at the chapel every Friday night. There will be a program and many good things will result from these meetings. Miss Malinda Walker will conduct the meetings, and that means that there will be many beautiful ideas carried out and gems of loveliness will be planted in the minds of the young people and Gardner may become known as a real garden of happiness.

Rev. Edward Shaffer of the old Pittsburgh road held a successful two weeks meeting with the M. E. church at New Bedford, where he has been pastor for some years. Mr. McKenzie, and Mr. Bowden, two students from Taylor University, added much to the interest of the services by their singing. The meetings closed last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schweikert, whose home is near Savannah, church left last Tuesday morning at 7:30 on the Pennsylvania for Florida. Mr. Seymour Kelley, will take care of the home while they are gone, as his home has been with his sister and husband for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weir of the old Pittsburgh road spent last Saturday at South Heights, Pittsburgh, visiting Mrs. Weir's sister Mrs. Beck. The sudden death of James Braden, of Gardner, came as a great shock to his family and also to his neighbors, very few of whom knew of his illness until hearing of his death. The Braden family were all so pleased with their new home at Gardner, and were looking forward to many years of happy home life. The family have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. Mr. Braden was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. Mrs. Braden's father, Thomas Taylor of Princeton suffered a stroke last Saturday which makes a very heavy burden.

Typist Becomes Opera Singer

(International News Service)

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 15.—From typist in a farm implement store in Saskatchewan to coloratura soprano with debuts at the New York and Cologne concert stages to her credit, reads the amazing story of the career of Mme. Otto Leuning.

When Ethel Codd was 10 she and three brothers and sisters were left orphans. Friends and relatives remembered the children's mother had possessed a charming voice and, believing Ethel had inherited her mother's talent, gave her a chance to develop her talent. For years the girl studied and when she was 19 won the provincial festival prize.

Her success led to a position with an opera company for a time and then she entered the studio of a Vancouver teacher.

Through influence, a scholarship in a Rochester, N. Y. school was obtained for his pupil by the teacher and later, following her favorable reception on the concert stages in New York and Germany, she married the composer, Otto Leuning.

Cathedral Grounds Are Favored By Squirreldom

The county court house property is fast losing its prestige as the official squirrel headquarters. Word was rumored in Squirreldom the other day about the spacious Cathedral grounds and several pioneers migrated from the land of somewhere, straight to the newly discovered Cathedral land in Lincoln avenue.

As far as the writer is aware, the Cathedral squirrel family consist of two rolly-polly bundles of fur and swishy tails. But the squirrels across Highland avenue, who for several years have made their homes on the Watson, Aiken and Wallace properties, are said to be casting sheep's eyes at the two snooty Cathedral pets and who knows but what they may run across the street someday to try out the strange weakness of the Cathedral squirrels.

They like peanuts and they don't care who knows it. Of course, that isn't so very unusual for other squirrels have liked peanuts. But what is unusual, is to what lengths these two squirrels will go to get peanuts.

The other day the writer noticed the squirrels running up and down the brick wall of a home next to the Cathedral. They would perch for a minute on an upper story window sill, and then dive in an instant back to the ground. Very shortly the reason for the strange gymnastics was discovered. A little girl in the window was offering them peanuts. The Cathedral looks down upon the pets with a serene proudness, and if she could speak, perhaps she would look over at the county court house and say:

"Humph! I've got squirrels now too. So there!"

Proposes Plan To Aid Schools, Save Timber

Systematic Method Of Re-forestation Is Being Advocated

(International News Service)

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 15.—

The huge stand of virgin timber on the Olympic Peninsula set aside as state school timber land and valued at $15,000,000 will be the source of a perpetual annual income of $500,000 to Washington schools if Clark V. Savidge, state land commissioner, is successful in getting the legislature to grant him authority to administer the rich block of timber on the sustained yield plan.

Clark maintains the school timber would disappear in 40 years under present lumbering methods.

Under the plan, a survey will be made each year to determine what timber may be cut and still keep perpetual logging operations. Only that amount will be logged, thus assuring an annual income for state schools forever, Savidge said.

Besides paying for the administration of the block, the proposed plan would provide approximately $500,000 to the state funds each year.

"The proposition," Savidge explained, "is not to lock up this timber away from the needs of commerce, but rather to make it forever available in a more intelligent and profitable manner for all concerned."

The block in question, part of the last stand of timber on the American continent, is 265 miles in area and adjoins the Olympic National Forest.

The federal government has already announced its intentions to handle the national forest land on a similar plan, Savidge said.

The commissioner predicted Washington would be denied of her timber supply by 1970 unless some systematic method of reforestation is adopted.

Highland Services

Prove Of Interest

in the Highland United Presbyterian church in preparation for the sacrament of the Holy Supper, which will be served Sunday, January 18, are in the nature of conference services rather than preaching services and the congregation is taking an active part in each meeting.

Dr. C. J. Williamson pastor of the church chose as the theme for the meetings "The Christian" and has been taking up various phases of the topic: Tuesday evening he took up the Creed of the Christian; Wednesday evening, the Book; this evening

he will speak on "The Prayer of the Christian," and Friday evening on

"His rule of Life."

The session has been meeting at the close of each service for the purpose of receiving new members.

Cuban Plotters?

Down in Cuba, where students have risen up against the Machado dictatorship, these two young women, university students, Rita

Shelton, top, and Lete Casuso de

Torriente-Brau, below, recently were arrested for alleged activities against the government. They subsequently were released after being confined in the jail at Ca-banas fortress. Three other girls were arrested with them during a raid on the home of Suarez Solis, writer for a Spanish language newspaper.

Child Diseases At Low Totals

Mortality Figures Far Below
Recent Years Check
Shows

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—Statisttics of recent months show not only a creditable record of mortality from the diseases of childhood, but present low figures for the year.

There was but one death from scarlet fever in the Commonwealth in September. This has never occurred but in one other month, namely

August, 1916, since 1909. The total for 1930 from January through September is 147 as compared with 190 for the same period in 1929.

Measles accounted for three deaths which establishes a record for the months of 1930. The sum for the first nine months of this year is 187, a figure considerably lower than the 1929 one of 329.

1930 will doubtless have fewer diphtheria deaths than any other year since 1906. Last year, which now holds the low record, had 477

casualties for the nine-month period, but for the same interval

this year there are but 362 on file.

The whooping cough toll of eighteen has been bettered but twice

since 1909, in October and November

1927. Mortality from this disease was low last year but 1930 will probably have a still lower total. For the nine months there have been

308 deaths as compared with 385 in 1927 and 455 in 1929 for the same length of time.

Schwab Assumes Bonuses Blame

Charles M. Schwab, Founder Of Bethlehem Steel Takes All Blame For System

SUIT IS FILED BY STOCKHOLDERS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Responsibility for the payment of $36,492,000 in bonuses to officers of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation today rested on Charles M. Schwab, founder and chairman of the company, in a statement issued by Schwab following filing of a suit by stockholders for an accounting of the bonus payments. The executive said he was responsible for the bonus system but pointed out he had never personally benefited from it.

An order returnable January 27 directing that the officers of the steel corporation show cause why they should not give an accounting of the bonuses was signed by Vice Chancellor John H. Backes. The suit was filed in court of chancery at Newark.

The order also directed the defendants to show cause why the payment of further bonuses should not be restrained pending the outcome of the suit. A preliminary injunction as asked by the stockholders was not granted.

In his statement Schwab praised the bonus system, said it had been approved by the corporation's stockholders and claimed it had resulted in benefit to his company.

"Practice makes perfect" quoted Wise Guy. "Guess that's right. I dare say a fellow couldn't even drive a horse without a rehearsal, snickered the Simple Mug.

Judge Blocks Gay Ohio Jail Wedding

STEUBENVILLE, Jan. 14.—All arrangements had been completed for a county jail wedding here Wednesday with Virgie Ellifritz 20 and Matthew Waldren 21, of Glen Robbins, O., as the principals.

Jail attaches, including Sheriff William Yost, had practiced their roles, the jail choir had rehearsed, "Here Comes the Bride," the flowers had been ordered and Justice I. Adler was ready to perform the ceremony.

But nobody had consulted Judge Emmett Morrow of Probate Court. Then Judge Morrow refused to grant a marriage license because the intended bride was not of age and because he said, "the prospective bridegroom already is in serious trouble and shouldn't assume added responsibility."

Miss Ellifritz went tearfully away in her wedding finery, vowing she would wait for Waldren to be released.

He is under indictment for a store robbery at Tiltonville, Ohio.

School Cafeteria Draws Attention

George Washington School Cafeteria Shows Notable Progress

Constant improvement both in methods and in preparation of food have brought the George Washington Junior High School cafeteria to a point where it stands out as one of the best of its kind in the western end of Pennsylvania.

About the middle of the last school term the school directors investigated the cafeterias of the schools here and determined that some improvements could and would be made. That in some cases prices could be reduced, and in less than a year's time the changes have been accomplished, the cafeterias vastly improved, and in the case of the George Washington cafeteria, an outstanding piece of work has been accomplished.

Balanced Diet

The menus prepared each day are balanced according to their caloric values and parents of the youngsters know that the noonday lunch they get in the cafeteria will be wholesome, satisfying and healthful. J. Herbert McIlvenny, a director has been acting as cafeteria chairman for the board and has spent many days in the cafeteria, conferring with Mrs. Rachel P. Taylor as to the bettering of conditions.

Prices are down to a rock bottom basis. Portions are priced at a nickel each, with each day some special article of food cut to three cents. In this way the students are guaranteed a satisfying lunch at a low price. The result has been a large increase in the business done in the cafeteria.

New Castle Dry Goods Co.

Bo-Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Several representative stock brokerage houses in Tammany Town report a substantial increase in their number of accounts since the first of the year.

Which recalls a story they tell of a Western statesman whose son, fresh from college, complained that so many men were "fools."

The father replied: "That's undoubtedly true, my son; but let us not be hard on the fools. If there were not so many of them, life would be less easy for you, me and some others."

LEARN FROM NATURE

Recently the telephone company conducted an experiment involving 20 young men and young women, to say nothing of a galvanometer. The boys and girls were to talk into a telephone mouthpiece while the galvanometer registered the intensity of sound vibration.

What the experiment proved, so far as the men were concerned, is of no import; but it was deduced that in the case of the women, low tones are "devastating."

"Nature," said the researchers, "will be kind to woman if she will listen to its secrets. She has been fashioned so that her speech is most effective when her voice is kept down."

"When angry," they cautioned, "don't raise the voice. If you wish to be devastating, keep that cool, level, deadly, middle-register tone."

ETIQUETTE OF SPECTACLES

A volume of excerpts from Godey's has been compiled by Elizabeth Davis, reference librarian of Kansas State Agricultural college. They make interesting reading.

"If you have squinting eyes," according to the sapient author of one article, "which have lost their lashes and are bordered with red, you should wear spectacles. If the defect be great, your glasses should be colored. In such cases emulate the sky, rather than the sea. Green spectacles are an abomination, fitted only for students of divinity; blue ones are respectable, even distinguished."

THE GOOD (?) OLD DAYS

Athletically inclined females of that distant day sure had their difficulties. The following, dealing with the "Balmoral," a patented adjustable bustle and skirt designed for mountain climbing, and so commendable as to be endorsed by Queen Victoria, shows what the Husky Helens had to contend with.

By an ingenious, if somewhat intricate system of cords, the "Balmoral" could be "looped up" while the fair wearer is scaling the rocky slopes; when she returns to the valley, by releasing these cords, she allows the skirt to drop, thus concealing her ankles and feet from the vulgar gaze.

ONE NEVER KNOWS

Probably a lot of the things we regard as tricky today will look just as foolish to old man Postscript and his wife. In all likelihood they'll get as much of a kick out of Emily Post as we get out of reading that "Ladies wishing hair made into braids, poms, neckties or earrings, can be accommodated by the fashion editor of Godey's."

Life's an ephemeral show—a series of "shifting pictures." The cold, fried-egg, left overnight on the kitchen window sill, looks about 1,000 years old in the morning and teaches us that the plaything of today becomes the annoyance of tomorrow.

Reserves Win From Aliquippa By Score 33-13

Manhattan Reserves Look Impressive In Victory Over Aliquippa Team

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—The Manhattan Reserves chalked up their seventh straight win by defeating an aggregation of Aliquippa ex-high stars 33-13 in a preliminary to the Manhattan-J. J. Miele game. It was played last night in the Shelby auditorium.

The Reserves have vanquished all of their opponents by impressive scores with the exception of Butler, who gave the local team the stiffest contest they have had. The diversified passing attack and accuracy in shooting accounts for their brilliant success. The local five were in control of the situation in every period of the game, not once losing the lead. The last quarter was the most fruitful for the Reserves, outscoring the invaders 14-5. The game was a little tighter in the other periods. The score for the first three quarters respectively were 9-5, 13-7 and 19-10 in favor of the Manhattan, who finally took the game by a 33-13 score.

Justine led the home team in scoring by accounting for five baskets. Clyde and Ursu were close runners-up with four and three respectively. Harden was Aliquippa's bright light with three baskets.

The lineup: Manhattan Res. 33 Aliquippa 13. Freidhoff . . . F. Jones. Clyde . . . F. Joe Murphy. Ursu . . . C. Milanovich. Justine . . . G. John Murphy. Dunn . . . G. John Murphy. Subs—Reserves: Lawrence for Freidhoff, Segedi for Harden. Markovitch for Harden. Young for Murphy. Referee—Lundgren.

Manhattans Win Over Miele's In League Battle

Ellwood Manhattans Appear Impressive In Victory Over Strong Miele's Team

LEWIS LITTELL PROVE SCORERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—The Ellwood City Manhattans had little trouble in disposing of the J. J. Miele's quintet in the Allegheny County League game here last night. The score was 33 to 16. It was the second victory of the second-half for the locals, and they are elated.

Ever since coach Stahl, former Shelby Independent League star, made his debut here last Thursday against Charleroi, the Manhattans have been doing some unbelievable things. They have just seemed to reverse the procedure this half from that of the last. In the last half the Manhattans went on a losing streak, which they had a difficult time getting out of.

This half they have started a winning spree, after Charleroi the home team repeated its victory over St. Mary's, then proceeded to give the first half winners, Pinter, a beating last Tuesday in a breath taking game at Pittsburgh, and finally last night in the Shelby Auditorium they gave the J. J. Miele's a drubbing. After this accomplishment the Lafayette's do not seem to be such an obstacle. After this showing, the Manhattans will be recognized as the leading candidate for second half honors.

The home team controlled the game most to their desire. They held the visitors scoreless in the first quarter, while rolling up 11 points themselves. All but Leyda had contributed to the Ellwood cause this period.

In the second quarter both quintets adhered to defensive tactics and as a result very little scoring was done. The invaders outscored the locals 5 to 1, making the score stand 12 to 5 at the half in favor of the Manhattans.

Tachosky Stars. Tachosky of the locals started the scoring in the third quarter by sinking a foul. Right on his tracks Lewis accounted for a bucket after a clever play, when the ball was thrown in from out of bounds. He also got a point from the charity line as a result of this play. Then Silverstein of the visitors got one by the same route. Littell and Lewis retaliated for the locals. Hoffman after recovering the ball from the banking board, immediately Littell got a pair of double deekers and two fouls and Fitzgerald contributed a bucket. This outscoring the invaders 14 to 3, this period, and making the score stand 26 to 8 for the Manhattans.

In the final stanza the home team played a fine defensive game, just to be on the safe side. The ball was in their position most of the time. They were outscored 8 to 7 in this period but the game was safely stored away by this time.

Lewis started for the locals with three buckets and Tyman for the losers with two.

Sale Of Narcotics Laid To Rum Runners

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—To rum running, vice and terrorism, Chicago gangsters have added the profitable activity of importing and distributing narcotics. This charge has been made by Miss Mary D. Bailey, assistant U. S. district attorney. In a recent address she stated: "During the last year we have run into many gang connections in the narcotic traffic. Upon many occasions we have seen men in court watching every movement in narcotic trials. These men we know are connected with the major gangs in Chicago."

"In the past year the price of morphine and cocaine has dropped from $120 to $65 an ounce in Chicago, indicating tremendous activity in the market. We have information that the gangs are now running dope into Chicago in automobiles, so daring have they become, whereas they formerly had it shipped here only in trunks, fearing they would be caught with it."

If only the go-getters were good revivers.

LEAF CENTERPIECE

A housewife writes: "Wanting a centerpiece one day in a hurry, I cut some nice leaves of different sizes from a bagonia growing in the window, placed them in a low bowl. They were so satisfactory I continued to use them until one day, giving them some fresh water, I found they had put out roots. They lasted all winter."

Van Norts Given Farewell Dinner

Half Hundred Pennsy Folk Pay Their Respect To Promoted Official

DINNER AND PARTY TAKE UP EVENING

Forty nine members and close friends of the Pennsylvania railroad's maintenance of way department, embracing the Ashabula, Niles and Sharon districts as well as New Castle with division officials contributed their praise and good wishes at a send-off dinner and social affair last night honoring C. W. Van Nort, division engineer promoted to Pittsburgh. A tasty steak and mushroom dinner in the private dining room at the Fountain Inn followed by an evening of cards and dancing in the third floor social room over the Pennsylvania freight house, comprised the testimonial program, given by the M. of W. following an expression of the high regard and esteem in which they hold their former chief. The honor guest, Mr. VanNort, now the division engineer, Pittsburgh division, at Pittsburgh, came here for the festivities in the afternoon. Mrs. Van Nort who still resides here was a guest with her husband.

Paris Is Chairman

Serving as generalissimo of arrangements for the farewell dinner and party and most capably too, was M. J. Paris, chief clerk to the division engineer. The efforts of Mr. Paris to guarantee an unprecedented success proved fruitful, for seldom has such a dinner party of Pennsylvania forces been so carefully arranged. For his assistants Mr. Paris had Miss Irene Uby, stenographer, O. A. Ishler, supervisor of telegraph and signals and Charles M. Oakes, division engineer's clerk. The highlight of the after-dinner program, presided over by Mr. Paris, was the gift presentations to both Mr. and Mrs. Van Nort. A beautiful silk umbrella was given to Mrs. Van Nort, with Mr. Paris on the presenting end. E. A. Penton, supervising agent of the division gave a brief case to Mr. Van Nort. After Mr. Van Nort had been presented his gift the introduction of three new division associates took place, the response of the honor guest being postponed for the moment. Mr. Penton presented J. S. Gillum, the new division engineer; W. O. Teufel, the new master mechanic; and J. P. Newell, who arrived yesterday to assume his position as a track supervisor here.

Van Nort Responds

Then Mr. Van Nort turned again to Mr. Van Nort, calling upon him for brief remarks. It was a most appropriate reply that he made, and explained the many reasons why it was hard to leave. He reminded them that ever in his new post at Pittsburgh the friendships made here will be remembered.

The entire staff of division officials, headed by H. T. Frushour, division superintendent, was present. Mr. Frushour spoke for the staff.

Adjourning the meeting for the instant, Mr. Paris asked the guests to reassemble in the company's social room on the west side. Here they gathered for the remainder of the evening, the diversions being dancing, cards and radio music. Out-of-town guests in attendance to formally say farewell to Mr. Van Nort were Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hoffmaster, Ashabula, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shipps, Sharon, R. W. Grube, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Jackson of Niles.

Advices College Girls On Diet

Should Choose Brand Of Food With Greatest Care

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 15.—If the average college girl desires a clear head for classwork, she should not eat banana splits or griddle cakes smothered with maple syrup, according to Mrs. Gladys B. Jones, director of Boston University's institute of homemaking, speaking before a group of girl students in advising the proper diet for the woman college student.

The modern college girl, rushing from class to class, and engaged in a whirl of social activities after school hours, leads as strenuous a life as any business man and should choose her diet with care, declared Mrs. Jones.

A class of milk is the best foundation for the daily luncheon for a student, but will not itself make a substantial meal, she declared. For the city college girl with limited means, a 35 cent lunch of chowder, roll, milk and baked apple is ideal. Mrs. Jones declared the best motto for the student is "Food is cheaper than a doctor."

Plenty Of Trout For Western Anglers

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 15.—Fishermen who whip Wyoming's streams for the elusive trout next year will have to buy their fish in the market.

This was indicated by the report of Carl Lund, superintendent of hatcheries, who said that 13,660,000 trout had been produced in the eight hatcheries maintained by the state during the past year.

The state is planning to increase next year's output to 18,000,000 and to construct numerous retaining ponds throughout the state. Three new hatcheries are also being planned.

Sometimes we may learn more from a man's errors than from his virtues.—Longfellow.

Westminster's towering Titans opened the collegiate game of the year at home, and Coach Harrison was congratulated on every hand for his fine team. Allegheny was scouting the Titans in droves, with Coach Dick Baker leading the party and for that reason the Titans played "under wraps."

Westminster looked very impressive in their first collegiate game of the year at home, and Coach Harrison was congratulated on every hand for his fine team. Allegheny was scouting the Titans in droves, with Coach Dick Baker leading the party and for that reason the Titans played "under wraps."

The game was featured by sensational guarding by Captain Phil Rice and Marsh Fisher. The Waynesburg boys only had five field goals, and you can't very well win ball games on five baskets, that is unless your opponents happen to be odious, but in this case Westminster went right ahead and scored fifteen baskets and a flock of fouls and made things miserable for the invaders from the middle of the first half until the finish. Coach Harrison's big crew looked very good.

For the first nine minutes the game was nip and tuck with the Yellow Jackets nipping and the Titans tucking. The score was 5 to 4 when Captain Rice called time and whatever he told the boys must have had some effect because they started in and soon began to pull away from the visitors. About four minutes after time was resumed the Titans led 11 to 5.

In the early part of the field game field goals were as scarce as snow on the Fourth of July, with the Waynesburg boys piling fouls rapidly. The first five points for the Wolfman were from the free throw lane.

16 to 12 At Half
A few subs went trucking into the game as the first half drew to a close with Siljander replacing Kocheran, Ullom for Janosik, O'Connell for Avery, and Arthur for Brownlee. The coaches were saving the boys for the last half drive. Danny Considine got in for Douglass near the end of the half and received a big hand. The first half ended with the Titans ahead 16 to 12.

Two field goals and eight fouls constituted the scoring for Waynesburg in the first half. Six baskets and four fouls were scored by the Titans.

The starting lineups returned to the court for both teams at the beginning of the second and final half of play.

In rapid order Rice, Kocheran and Douglass scored field goals to give the Titans a big lead at 22 to 12 soon after the second half began. Danny Considine ran the count to 28 to 12 before the Waynesburg team scored a point in the half, and then it was a long shot by Ullom.

Brownlee made it 30 to 14 with a clever one-handed shot and duplicated a little while later with another one-handed shot that put Westminster ahead 33 to 14.

Subs Get Chance
The subs started floating in again with Siljander and Janosik going back for their respective teams. Siljander immediately twisted himself out of shape and sunk a basket. Brownlee tallied to run the count to 37 to 14 with the half a little better than half gone.

Arthur and Mancuso went in for their respective teams, replacing Brownlee and Stypowski. Janosik and Mancuso got baskets in succession to give Waynesburg four more points.

O'Connell shot a pair of fouls for two more points running the score to 37 to 20. Considine, Blamer and Hamas went in for the Titans and pretty soon Newton and Williams broke into the lineup. The final two points of the game were made by Mancuso from the foul line making the score 37 to 22.

Davies-Tobias To End Hard Training

Saturday Will Be Last Day
For Hard Training
Reports State

MEN CONTINUE TO ORGANIZE PARTIES

Phil Tobias and Willie Davies, fly-weight boxers, will cease hard training Saturday, rest Sunday and be in fine fettle when they clash Monday night in a 10-round bout at Castle bowl. They're the principal boxers in a show to be staged to help swell the receipts of Mayor Gillespie's committee on relief here.

It is indicated that there will be a large number of women present as many prominent men have organized parties. Davies and Tobias are popular gentlemen performers and some people for the first time will be a witness to boxing bouts, which are legalized in almost all states in the Union.

Davies is training at Charleroi and Tobias at Chicago. All the other boys are in training here and fans who want to see boys in the pink of condition can do so by travelling to any of the local gymnasiums.

Some of the boys will be making their first appearance and naturally will not have the polish of Davies and Tobias but they're physically fit and ready for anything that might come up.

New York Yankees Extend Contracts To 1931 Players

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Some 30 envelopes mailed today to members of the New York Yankees contained the good and bad news for 1931. The ball players were sent their contracts and Yankee officials sat back calmly awaiting the "holdout" deluge.

The chief holdout of the New Yorkers may be Lou Gehrig. The first baseman is ending a three-year contract at $25,000 and is reported to be asking $30,000 a year in a two-year agreement.

The New York Giants will send out contracts next week. The Giants are faced with signing up the entire club, having no running agreements. Bill Terry, the heavy hitter, is expected to be a holdout.

Plan Eliminations For Middleweights

New York Boxing Commission Will Plan Elimination Tourney For Middleweights

Mickey Walker Stripped Of Title — Ten Fighters Rank Right To Vie For Crown

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Having settled the heavyweight situation to the satisfaction of all concerned except a few million fans who think Jack Sharkey can whip any man in the world, and except business interests which will lose upwards of ten million dollars as a result of heavy-weight title contests being lost to New York state for at least the next eighteen months, the New York Boxing commission has now turned its attention to the middleweight championship.

The three wise men of Gotham, who vacated Mickey Walker's title in this state on the same afternoon that Max Schmeling got the axe, will approve a series of elimination bouts here to determine the local ruler of the 160-pound division. The chances are that the winner also will be recognized by the National Boxing Association.

Ten Men Named.

Tom McArdle, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, submitted a list of ten leading men in the division at the meeting of the commission late yesterday. Tom, who has seen them all, rates the middleweights in this order:

Walker, Dave Shado, Vine Dundee, Len Harvey, Ace Hudkins, Harry Smith, Ben Jey, My Sullivan, Gorilla Jones and Billy Angelo.

The commission will not limit the entries to this list, but will be guided by a poll of sports writers' selections. In this connection, a group of seventy boxing critics recently selected the ten leading middleweights as follows:

Walker, Shado, Rere De Vos, Harvey, Jones, Smith, Hudkins, Harry Ebbets, Dundee and Jack McVey.

In this consensus, Harvey was ranked fourth before his unexpected defeat by Dundee.

Walker, of course, is out as far as the elimination tourney is concerned. That leaves Shado, Dundee and Harvey as the leading contenders.

New Castle High Five Floor Record Impressive

A record on the basketball floor which stands out as among the best made by any schoolboy quintet in this district in a number of years is the one which the present New Castle high school five is enjoying.

Practically the same roster which played last season is back again—for a while anyhow.

The Senior high team last season was composed of Arthur Alexander, Regis McAuley, Luther Rowe, Russell Hannon, Francis Wainio, John and Nick Uram, Andy Lasky, George Winter, Marvin, Merle, McIntosh, Dick Jones, Allen McKissick. This roster made one of the best records in the history of the school, winning 20 out of 21 contests.

The game that was lost to Duquesne meant the loss of a W. P. I. A. L. title. That was the only serious blow which the Senior high boys met last season. The local passers won the Lake Erie Tournament, defeating some of the best schoolboy combinations in Pennsylvania and New York.

This season most of the players who saw action in 1929-30 are back again with the exception of Arthur Alexander and Russell Hannon who were first stringers. Others who departed were Merle, McIntosh, McKissick, who played on the second team.

The combination, Rowe and Wainio, at forwards, Uram and McAuley at guards saw plenty of action last season. These boys with Lasky at center are the quintet which to date has won seven straight games. Two of these victories are Section Three games.

Three of the present floor aces will soon be lost to the local high school team.

Francis Wainio one of the best forwards turned out at the local institution departs at mid-year by the sheepskin route while Luther Rowe also graduates. Rowe like Wainio has proven to be another find by Coach Bridenbaugh.

Regis McAuley became ineligible to play on February 8 to due to age. It is this which is causing the followers of the high school cagers to believe that the splendid record made so far may be spoiled when these three boys are lost. Many fans are of the opinion that with these three cagers in the New Castle lineup, the locals would be a match for any schoolboy machine in the state.

What may help things considerably is the fact that the reserve material is nothing to be "sneezed" at. With boys like Shaffer, J. Uram and Marvin in the lineup, some believe that the 1931 season will turn out like last season.

In the past games in which second team material has seen action, they have made an impressive showing.

When Rowe, Wainio, and McAuley play their last contest, fans will see three of the best floor men at the high school in a number of years depart.

Tax Revision Is Being Made Under New Plan

Council Adjourns As Board
Of Revision To Let
Clerks Figure

WILL RE-CONVENE
AT FUTURE DATE

Regular Valuation For Foot
Frontage Of Lots Is Agreed Upon

Having established a rate per foot front in all Second ward thoroughfares the board of revision, tax assessors, Wednesday, instructed clerks in the assessors' bureau to compute valuations on lots.

After issuing the instructions, councilmen who composed the revision board adjourned late Wednesday until the valuations on the lots have been computed. They will then reconvene to consider the lot valuations and also assessments on houses.

The board has considered lot and house assessments of all property owners in the Second ward, alphabetically from "A" to "F" and were working on owners whose last name begin in "G" when they adopted the new plan.

Councilmanic members of the board explained their latest move by stating:

"The way we were doing the work monopolized all of the time of the mayor, council, assessor and city hall clerks.

"We have now established a rate per foot front and the girls can compute the valuations of the lots beginning alphabetically with 'G'.

"When they have made noticeable progress the board will reconvene and take action on lot and house assessments beginning with 'G'.

"When a 1931 assessment made by Assessor Cover is increased the property owner will be notified by card. No notice will be given of a reduction."

Rates Fixed

The rate per foot front which has been established shows as high as three different valuations in the same thoroughfare.

The foot front valuation for most of the Second ward thoroughfares follow:

Englewood avenue $12 to $10.
Fairfield avenue $20 to $10.
Hazelcroft $16 to $10.
Edgewood avenue $9 to $10.
Meyer avenue $10 to $9.
Northview avenue $10 to $9.
Elizabeth street $10.
Fairmont avenue $14 to $10 to $9.
Hillcrest avenue $14 to $11 to $9.
Clenmore boulevard $15 to $8.
Norwood avenue $16 to $12 to $9.
Summer avenue $15.
Euclid avenue $14.
Sheridan avenue $20 to $15.
Garfield avenue $18 to $10 and $14 to $12.
Leasure avenue $22.
Winter avenue $25 to $22 to $21.
Edison avenue $26.
Wildwood avenue $10.
Moody avenue $20 to $26 to $10.
Laurel avenue $14 to $25.
Park avenue $23 to $27.
Boyle avenue $27.
Wallace avenue $35.
Lincoln avenue $35.
Neshannock avenue $25.
Carlisle street $20 near Park.

In some of the foregoing where there is a short lot or some reason why the rate should not be applicable the price will be lower as council recently for instance, lowered some Park avenue lots down to $12.50.

It is believed that the new plan of letting the clerks compute the valuations will expedite the work and not "tie up" all city hall work.

There are two books in which the valuations are written. The first ends with "L". As soon as the girls fix the valuations on lots belonging to persons whose last name begins with "L" council will reconvene as the revision board and consider the assessments on the lots and also the houses.

Before the board adjourned they lowered the lot of Thomas Gilboy, Neshannock avenue from $500 to $510 and took the following action on the J. F. Genkinger property as follows:

Mercer street lot $33,400 to $27,000; two buildings, $54,500 now $25,200.
Washington street, lot was $36,000, remains the same; two buildings, $12,900 now $12,000.

J. F. Genkinger, trustee, Washington, lot was $61,000, now $60,900, building, $15,390 now $15,000; building, $5540, $5450.
It was stated that the assessment on the house of Mary Conitt which was $7850 is now $6300. It had been printed as $6800.

Continues Check On Rural Schools

HARRISBURG, Jan. 15.—John G. Ziegler, chief of the bureau of pre-school child health, to-day reported that during the past thirty days 2170 fourth-class school buildings have been investigated by personnel under his supervision for the purpose of checking up on the heating, lighting, ventilating and sanitary facilities. This brings the total number of buildings thus inspected for the present school term up to the total of 9635.

Ziegler also reported that during the same period through medical inspection 41,924 children have been advised to seek medical treatment for discovered defects, bringing the total for the present school system in this line of activity up to 117,785. Previous averages indicate that more than one-third of the major defects have already been corrected.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It seems we hardly get over one excitement until another one comes along to take its place. The temperature caused by football is hardly back to normal until basketball preempts the spotlight and with a crack team in New Castle High School and Westminster College, the winter evenings shouldn't be nearly so dull.

Up in Wilmington the folks are all in a glow over this season's model of basketball team. This Young Lochinvar out of the West, Popsy Harrison to you, seems to have been able to turn out an aggregation capable of stepping out and last night was a fair demonstration.

Waynesburg was touted as having a fast team, but they hadn't figured on the pace. The Blue and White played them a little better than even in the first half and ran them dizzy in the second. And if they can come through on Saturday night against Allegheny, they'll run Harrison for burgess or tax collector or something.

Not that last night's game meant anything to this department of this great family chronicler. The evening was spent in a secluded spot over on East street, where once a month the school board is called to gather and pass resolutions.

Sometimes I wonder if they have any homes. After sitting up with them until early this morning, taking down the goings on, a fellow wonders why the board couldn't hold meetings on wet Thursday afternoons. Or any afternoon for that matter. When Jim Love was on the board he suggested such a plan, but the suggestion is still fluttering around the building looking for a spot to light.

Plenty of school director activities this week. The rural school directors are holding their convention and if anybody deserves a medal of some sort it's a rural school director these days. All they have to do is to raise enough taxes to keep even with the demands of the department of Public Instruction, follow out as best they can, rules they feel are wrong, keep plugging, knowing that whatever they do, somebody will criticize.

Concerning the recent robbery of eighty pints of liquor from the court house the following bit of verse has been contributed to this column.

Eighty pints of liquor,
Sitting in a row,
Some of it was mooned,
And some of it was "Crow,"
Some one used a pinch bar
To open up the door,
And carted all the liquor out,
No wonder Lee is sore.

Perhaps we're getting old. Must be something. Sitting around the lunch table a day or so ago, one lad who has been wearing long pants for some years mentioned the fact that he had never seen a minstrel show, and asked what they were like.

Sounded unreasonable but he insisted that he had never seen one. Seems by the time he got interested in theatrical productions, minstrel shows were on the way out. And somehow it seems to me he has missed something.

Not to have seen Honey Boy Evans, or Lasses White, or Bert Swor, or Lew Dockstader, or Neil O'Brien seems a pity. Not to have heard Billy Church sing "When You And I Were Young Maggie," or to have watched the graceful work of Vaughn Comfort as interlocutor is to have missed something.

Some day perhaps minstrels will come back. Not as long as the public wants these hot cha cha and boop boop a doop singers, not as long as dirt replaces real entertainment but maybe some day. Perhaps then we can settle back in a seat, fourth row on the aisle and with all the old time enthusiasm watch the curtain go up to reveal a circle of singers with some blackfaced gag men on the end. Boy thass sumpin.

Mayor's Relief Committee Still Needs Coal Stoves

Demand Increases With Continuance Of Cold Weather —Supply Inadequate

Demand for coal stoves, both heating and cooking stoves, continues, Orville Potter, chairman of the Mayor's Relief Committee stated this morning.

A recent request resulted in nearly a dozen coal stoves being secured, but the demand greatly exceeds the supply and requests have been made for approximately that many more, it was stated this morning.

Persons who have stoves which are usable are asked to call 5084 and arrangements will be made to come and get them.

Gibson Dwelling Sold To Gormley

Among the real estate sales announced today is that of the home formerly occupied by Attorney Clyde Gibson at the corner of Fairfield and Albert street, to Harry Gormley, Mr. and Mrs. Gormley expect to take immediate possession.

There is almost as much controversy now over what the Wickersham commission will report as there will be soon over what it did report.—The Lynchburg News.

Football Season Proceeds $19,410.70

Along with other things, football felt the depression in the past season. A tabulated report of the season's income and expenditures, presented to the school board on Wednesday evening shows the total receipts at $19,410.70. The total expenditures are $17,517.22, leaving a balance of $1,893.48 in the treasury as of January 12.

New Contract To Be Tendered To Bridenbaugh

Three Year Contract For New Castle High School Football Coach

P. H. Bridenbaugh, coach of the senior high school football, basketball and track teams, will be tendered a new contract for a three-year period commencing June 1, 1931. It was stated at the meeting of the New Castle school board Wednesday evening.

Under the arrangement now in force, Mr. Bridenbaugh is paid a scheduled salary for his work as a mathematics instructor and is paid his coaching salary out of proceeds of the football games. The athletic council notified the board of its intention of tendering Mr. Bridenbaugh the new contract, if the board was disposed to continue him as a teacher. This the board has every intention of doing, and the new contract will be presented within a short time at the same salary scale.

"Bridie" has been coach of the New Castle senior high school football team since 1922. During his regime New Castle has built up an enviable record in athletics and is known all over Pennsylvania and in adjoining states. His record here has been one of continued success, and the athletic council feels that it is making no mistake in renewing the contract for a three-year period.
